

Street Repair Cut Hinted By Council To Avoid Deficit

Street construction, maintenance and repairs apparently will have to be cut back for the remainder of this year if the city's street department fund is to avoid a deficit.

In a financial report to City Council last night, Auditor Helen Coyne told the legislators that unpaid bills presently exceed the cash balance in the street fund by several thousand dollars.

Her report showed a cash balance of $3,633.82 as of Oct. 1, but it also listed unpaid bills to Sept. 1 of $7,516.99. In addition, Mrs. Coyne pointed out that she hasn't received September bills yet.

If the street department fund is to receive approximately the same amount from various sources this year as it did in 1960, revenue for the remainder of 1961 should come to a little over $20,000.

Figures show total receipts in the street fund for the first nine months of this year of $66,326.21. Total receipts in this fund for all of 1960 came to $89,574.71.

So that estimates could be made of anticipated revenue for the balance of the year, Mrs. Coyne showed a breakdown of receipts for 1960 in comparison with funds received from the same sources in the first nine months of this year.

Following are the receipts for the first nine months of 1961 with last year's total collection in parentheses:

Gasoline tax, $32,118 ($48,020.80); miscellaneous sales and services, $2,431.66 ($3,294.08); highway patrol fines, $624.93 ($1,398.85); refunds and reimbursements, $705.27 ($1,616.71); overloads, $5,405.70 (0); auto licenses, $25,040.65 ($35,244.27).

Including balances of approximately $8,000 on Jan. 1 of each of the last two years, total receipts and balances in the street fund for all of 1960 came to $98,170.76, while for the first nine months of 1961 total receipts and balances stood at $74,364.23.

Expenditures for the first nine months totaled $70,730.41, leaving a cash balance in the street fund as of Oct. 1 of $3,633.82.

At the current rate of spending, Mrs. Coyne said she doesn't see how the street fund could end up the year with a balance. She pointed out that the purchase of salt to spread on icy streets this winter will cut deeper into street funds.

OK Assessment Ordinance

In action last night, Council passed one ordinance and gave first reading to two others.

The legislators passed as an emergency measure an ordinance providing for the issuance of notes in anticipation of property assessments to pay for the resurfacing of three streets. The notes are for $7,175.80.

The streets are Penn Ave. from E. Pershing St. to E. State St.; N. Broadway from E. State St. to E. 4th St.; and Lundy Ave. from E. Pershing St. to E. 4th St.

First reading was given an ordinance which would have the city vacate the first alley south of Maple St. The move has the approval of the Planning Commission and all persons who own property in the immediate vicinity.

Also given first reading was an

President Signs Education Bill

But Vetoes Measure On Postal Pay Hike

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has signed into law "with extreme reluctance" a bill containing the remains of his aid to education program.

The measure: (1) extends for two years the program of aid for school districts crowded with children of federal personnel and (2) continues for two years the National Defense Education Act.

The former, known as the impacted areas program, carries about $300 million a year in U.S. grants. The Defense Education Act, which provides loans to college students and aids to teaching of science, mathematics and foreign languages, has been costing about $250 million a year.

It was all Congress granted the President of the ambitious federal aid to education program he proposed this year.

Kennedy Tuesday night vetoed a bill that would have given $60.8 million a year in pay raises to 560,000 postal workers through quicker longevity increases.

In a veto memorandum Kennedy said, "Budgetary needs are too urgent to permit approval of this measure unattended by revenue increases."

Congress did not pass the postal rate increases recommended by both the Kennedy and Eisenhower administrations. The President cited this as one of the reasons he vetoed the measure. He said the proposed raises would have increased the postal deficit to more than $800 million.

Despite the extra costs, said Kennedy, the bill would not have achieved its objectives.

He said civil service and postal pay structures need extensive revision and promised that the administration will make recommendations to the next session of Congress.

In signing the education measure, Kennedy said in a statement:

"It will become those who insist that we cannot afford the expenditure of federal funds to aid the public education of all children to insist with equal fervor upon the passage of this unsound and uneconomical measure which aids the education of only some."

Kennedy announced that he will try again next year to push through his broader education

Ministers Protest Erases Nudity Film

A nudity movie was not shown at the Salem Drive-In theater on Rt. 14 Tuesday night as the result of threatened legal action.

Jack Vogel of Wellsville, operator of the outdoor theater, agreed not to show the film the second night after the Salem Ministerial Association filed a complaint with Columbiana County Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin and Prosecutor G. William Brokaw at Lisbon.

Judge Tobin said that private citizens, as well as the ministers, had protested the showing, pointing out that the screen was clearly visible from the highway just east of Salem.

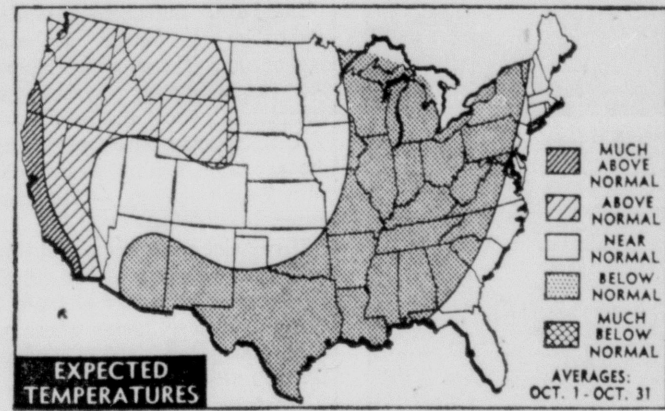

The marquee at the drive-in last night simply read, "No Movie."

The movies shown Monday night were "Career Girl" and "Hideout in the Sun."

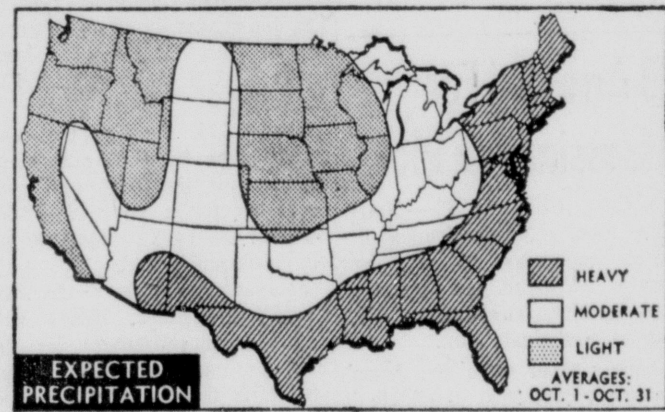

Midway Theater between Columbiana and East Palestine advertised the same attraction.

Negotiating Sessions Resume Today

Ford Strike Faces Long Bargaining

DETROIT (AP)—Ford Motor Co., its plants closed by a United Auto Workers Union strike, today apparently faced long and tedious bargaining before the auto firm can return to full production.

Negotiating sessions were scheduled to resume at 10 a.m. today.

The UAW struck Ford Tuesday morning in support of new contract demands. A national money package had been reached, but non-economic matters proved to be the stumbling block.

Ninety-six days of negotiation failed to bring agreement and the 120,000 production workers walked out. Ford operates 88 plants in 26 states. Half of its employees and 32 of its plants are in Michigan.

Normally about 30 per cent of all autos sold in this country are Ford products.

Malcolm L. Denise, Ford vice president labor relations and top management negotiator, said "The issues on which we are apart are of great importance. Based on outward appearance we have a considerable distance between us."

UAW President Walter P. Reuther said the union did all it could to avoid the strike, saying, "We have been at the table for 95 days, more than adequate time to settle our problems, but we didn't even clear up the details of our economic agreement until 8 a.m. Tuesday."

The economic package closely paralleled the union's agreement with General Motors, reached two weeks ago.

Stumbling blocks are: production standards, especially working conditions on moving assembly lines; representation (the union wants more full-time, company-paid committeemen in plants); lines of demarcation in the skilled trades; outside contractors (the right of the company to farm out certain specialized work); and special issues involving the Ford steel plant in Dearborn, Mich.

A Ford spokesman said hourly-latered employees at the company's 11 major plants in Ohio will lose more than $59,250 in wages every day the strike continues. The daily payroll for the 11,100 hourly Ford employees in the Cleveland area alone is $258,000, he said.

Patrick J. O'Malley, a regional UAW director, called on management to step up negotiations in an attempt to settle 75 local plant working proposals affecting more than 11,000 employees at Ford plants in greater Cleveland.

Included in the proposals at three Brook Park Ford plants are occupational seniority, shift preference, job posting rates and classification, overtime equalization and health safety and production standard issues, according to Art Kuhn, president of Local 1250, which has 7,759 members. He said his negotiators were prepared to meet with management today.

Other Ford plants idled by the strike are the big compact car assembly plant in Lorain, with 4,100 workers; stamping plant at Walt Hills, 3,287; Sandusky parts plant, 1,134; Lima engine plant, 2,667; Canton forging plant, 1,313; Fostoria spark plug plant, 1,272; two transmission plants in the Cincinnati area, total 4,890, and storage depots in Cleveland and Cincinnati with a total of 123 hourly workers.

Mayor Candidates To Speak To Jaycees

Mayor Dean Cranmer and Atty. Henry Reese, Democratic and Republican candidates for mayor, respectively, will be guest speakers at the Junior Chamber of Commerce dinner meeting Thursday at 6:30 p.m. at the Saxon Club.

They will speak on behalf of their respective candidacy. A question and answer period will follow.

Bruce Gordon is program chairman.

Kennedy, Rusk Confer With Gromyko Friday

U.S., Soviet Talks May Continue On Ambassador Level

WASHINGTON (AP)—Diplomatic sources said today U. S.-Soviet talks on Berlin may continue at the ambassadorial level after President Kennedy sees Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko.

Formal announcement was expected shortly that Kennedy will see Gromyko Friday, with Secretary of State Dean Rusk sitting in on the White House session.

Rusk talked with Gromyko in New York three times in the past two weeks. This was a probing operation to find out if there are prospects for fruitful East-West negotiations to settle the explosive Berlin dispute.

Kennedy will give Gromyko a final expression of the U. S. view before the Soviet foreign minister leaves for Moscow.

Further U. S.-Soviet talks seem likely. So far, Gromyko has given Rusk only a limited clarification of the Kremlin's intentions on Germany.

Rusk would still like to know more precisely what Soviet Premier Khrushchev means, for instance, when he talks about guarantees for Western rights to West Berlin after he signs a peace treaty with Communist East Germany.

Diplomats said firm arrangements obviously would have to await the outcome of the White House meeting. But barring a more rapid advance than has taken place so far, more exploratory talks will be needed before the prospects of an East-West negotiating conference can be gauged.

Kennedy received a report from Gen. Lauris Norstad, the North Atlantic Treaty Organization Commander, NATO is building its armed strength in the face of the Berlin threat and a generally tougher Communist stance worldwide.

Joining the White House conference, which lasted about two hours, were Rusk, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Norstad's visit was described as one of his frequent trips to Washington for consultation.

KILLER SUSPECT CAUGHT — Richard J. Stewart, right, of Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, sought in the slaying of a Kent State University coed, has been captured near Monterey Park, Calif. 3 Cars Tangle Near Wellsville

6 Persons Hurt In Four Road Mishaps

Six persons were injured in four separate accidents on area highways Tuesday and early this morning.

Four persons from the East Liverpool-Wellsville area were hurt in a three-car crash on Rt. 7, just east of the Wellsville corporation line, at 12:45 p. m. Tuesday.

Treated at East Liverpool City Hospital were:

Thomas E. Diddle, 31, of RD 1, East Liverpool, laceration of the forehead.

Robert Beatty, 50, of East Liverpool, abrasions of the right knee.

Edith L. Fuqua, 36, of Wellsville, contusions and lacerations of the lip.

Becky O'Hara, 5, of Wellsville, contusions and abrasions of lip.

According to the State Highway Patrol, Diddle was making a left turn off Rt. 7 when his car was struck in the rear by Mrs. Fuqua. The impact swung Diddle's car around into the opposite lane of traffic where it was hit by an oncoming car operated by Beatty.

The O'Hara girl was a passenger in Mrs. Fuqua's auto.

All three cars received extensive damage. Mrs. Fuqua was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

In Salem Hospital

Robert Conder, 25, of Enon Valley, Pa., is in fair condition at Salem City Hospital with injuries received when his car went off the road and struck a utility pole on Rt. 7, a mile and a half north of the Columbiana County line. The accident occurred at 10:10 p.m. Tuesday.

Conder suffered a possible concussion, possible fractured right shoulder, lacerations of the head and bruises.

The Patrol said Conder's car went into the ditch on the right side of the road, then smashed into a utility pole, breaking it into the other five, booked Monday, are:

Frank A. Cickelli, 51, county Democratic Party chairman and a $4,500 - a - year member of the county board of elections; city councilmen Raymond J. Little, 49, Jack G. Flask, 53, and John Janosik, 40; and James Matash, 50, a bondsman.

Judge Birrell said most of the indictments stemmed from the testimony of officials of the construction firms awarded the $4.4 million contract for a sewer project.

Raymond Is Target Of Bar Assn. Action

LISBON — A suit to keep a Salem man from practicing law was filed Tuesday in common pleas court by the committee on unauthorized practice of law of the Columbiana County Bar Association.

In their protest, they claim that Louis J. Raymond Jr., operator of the Mutual Discount Co., 187 S. Ellsworth Ave., "On Aug. 16 did cause a demand for payment to be made upon Floyd Albright, threatening to sue on behalf of alleged creditor, William Goetz, and further that he did cause demand for personal earnings to be prepared by Albright, threatening him that failure to comply would cause an order of attachment to be made on his wages."

The Bar Association's law committee requested the court for an injunction against Raymond.

Ministers Endorse Salem City Charter

The Salem and Vicinity Ministerial Association voted to endorse the proposed city charter at its meeting Tuesday morning in the Farmers Bank building.

This action was taken after Atty. Bruce Kendall discussed the proposed charter. The Association "urges the people of Salem to give careful study to this proposed form of government."

The charter will be voted on at the Nov. 7 general election.

Rev. Arthur Brown of the First Church of the Nazarene opened the meeting with devotions. Rev. Ray Hunter of the First Baptist Church was appointed chaplain and will arrange the devotional programs for the coming year.

The next meeting is Nov. 7.

Canvassers On Job Following Kick-Off Rally

Hope to Attain $81,767 Objective Within 10 Days

Members of 12 United Fund teams this morning began the challenging task of raising $81,767 for the local "red feather" agencies, following a campaign "kick-off" meeting Tuesday evening at the Memorial Building.

The team workers were heartened by a report last night that $23,717.39 was on hand as the result of preliminary canvassing by the Adva n c e Gifts Committee headed by Roland Webber and Robert Campbell.

Fund Drive Co-Chairmen Horace K. Schwartz and James T. Schaeffer, who shared the speaking platform, pointed out that there is still a long distance to go to reach the objective and that it will require the utmost on the part of each and every team member.

Oct. 12 Is Victory Date

A Victory Meeting is planned for Oct. 12 when it is hoped that the drive will have gone over the top.

A crowd of 190 persons attended the meeting, a chicken dinner being served cafeteria-style by James Adams.

Delmer Smith, who will be chairman of the United Appeals drive next year, was in charge of an impressive "Parade of Agencies" when representatives of each church group marched across the auditorium platform. Thomas Williams planned the stunt.

The speaker of the evening was Dr. Walter A. Dew, a former Salem resident who is executive secretary of the Committee on Contributions and Memberships of the Du Pont Co. at Wilmington, Del.

A Way of Life, Speaker Says

A leader in Delaware community chest activities, Mr. Dew stressed the human relationships of the various "red feather" agencies and how vitally they affect the lives of every person in Salem, whether all individuals realize it or not.

Knight Ready With Proof In Nixon Charge

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Goodwin J. (Goodie) Knight staked his bid for a political comeback on promised proof today that Richard M. Nixon tried to lure him out of the Republican race for governor.

The 64-year-old former governor called an afternoon news conference and said he would disclose the who, what and where to back up his charge.

Knight, who has clashed with Nixon, alleged that a Nixon emissary offered him anything in the state if he wouldn't oppose the former vice president's candidacy for governor.

Nixon denied it. He said he is willing to swear on the Bible that

Governor Grants Reprieve To Condemned Ohio Slayer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle has announced the reprieve of a condemned slayer, the impending resignation of Ohio Penitentiary's warden, and the appointment of a new 15-member Ohio Commission on Aging.

Clarence V. Ferguson, 19, of Cleveland, who was to have been electrocuted at Ohio Penitentiary Friday, got a 30-day reprieve to Nov. 3. The governor granted it, he said Tuesday, in the absence of a pardon and parole commission clemency report. The commission met before noon and reached a secret recommendation on clemency for Ferguson, but DiSalle said the report had not reached him by afternoon.

Beryl C. Sacks, the penitentiary warden, is resigning effective Nov. 1, the governor said in confirming earlier reports that Sacks planned to quit. DiSalle said Sacks gave health reasons for deciding to give up the $15,000-a-year post he took less than two years ago.

Ferguson was condemned to death and Louis (Slim) Thornton got a life sentence when a three-judge court tried them in the $5 robbery-slaying last March 4 of drug store operator Benjamin Kaufman, 62, in Cleveland.

Both Ferguson and Thornton are Negroes.

The new commission on aging will continue the work of the previous governor's commission established two years ago to prepare an Ohio report for the 1961 White House Conference on Aging. DiSalle noted that the White House conference recommended the states establish continuing commissions to survey and bring to public attention the problems of the increasing elderly population.

The commission members, civic leaders from government, business, labor and charitable organizations, are:

Ernest J. Bohn, Cleveland; Ronald Brown, Cleveland; W. B. Burr, Findlay; Vernon R. Burt, Lakewood; Mrs. Asa Butterfield, Cincinnati; Mrs. Richard Crouch, Dayton; Mrs. Charles B. Cushman, Jr., Youngstown; Andrew G. Freeman, Columbus; James P. Griffin, Youngstown; Mrs. Carl G. Jackson, Columbus; Mrs. Fred Lazarus Jr., Cincinnati; Mrs. Kathleen Lyaght, Elyria; Mrs. Mary Moss, Columbus; Herman Roselott, Lynchburg; and Donald Zimmerman, New Philadelphia.

Several of them were on the former governor's commission for aging. Others were on advisory committees to the commission or to the White House conference.

UC RECEIVES LARGE GRANT
CINCINNATI (AP) — The University of Cincinnati has received almost $2 million in grants and bequests since the last board of trustees meeting in June, according to President Walter C. Langsam.

The biggest single grant, he said, was $17,857 from the Air Force for research in aerospace engineering and chemical and metallurgical engineering.

Farm News

Topics of Interest To Farmers; Notes About Meetings

Wheat Stabilization Program

The stated purposes of the 1962 wheat stabilization program, according to Columbiana County Agent Floyd Lower, are to:

First, increase farm income to nearer the level of non-farm income and thus increase farmer purchasing power to support the general economy;

Second, to reduce government storage costs, the aim is to bring the production of wheat more into line with the needs. This would benefit both the producers and the taxpayers, he says.

Basically, participants who divert 1962 wheat acreage to conservation will receive payments and producers who comply with acreage allotments will be able to market their production without marketing quota penalty.

The 1962 allotment sent to wheat producers by the county ASC service office reflects a 10 per cent diversion in wheat acreage for which payments will be made to offset income loss during the period of adjusting production to needs. Cooperators may divert additional wheat acreage and receive larger payments.

Program provisions provide that full history credit be given producers on all acreage they divert under the program so that producers will not get smaller allotments in the future. A similar provision now applies to wheat acreage history on farms retired under the conservation reserve program.

USDA officials point out that in 1962, as in the past, producers who do not comply with their permitted acreage and who market their excess production will be subject to marketing quota penalties and also to loss of acreage history, which will result in reduction of future allotments.

If the acreage on the farm exceeds this allotment, or the permitted acreage in the case of small farms, the 1962 production from the farm will be subject to marketing quota penalties which were increased by Congress for the 1962 crop, Lora explained.

USDA officials also stated that farmers, to be in compliance with the wheat stabilization program and thus eligible to receive price support and payments for diverted acreage, must maintain the normal conserving acreage on the farm in addition to devoting the acreage diverted from wheat in 1962 to a conserving use.

Ex-Police Chief At East Palestine Withdraws Suit

EAST PALESTINE — Carl H. Lotze, dismissed as chief of police here June 1, has withdrawn a $50,000 slander suit in Common Pleas Court against Mrs. Virginia Mast of Leontonia.

The suit was filed against Mrs. Mast as a result of testimony she gave at a Civil Service Commission hearing here when nine counts were filed against Lotze. The commission found Lotze guilty of six of the counts involving misconduct in office.

The commission's action has been appealed.

Mrs. Mast later filed counter charges, denying that the testimony she gave was malicious and also denying all of the charges brought by Lotze.

City Solicitor J. H. Cohen here has filed a motion for summary judgment in the case and a hearing was set for 1 p.m. Friday. Attorney D. Barry Dickson, Lotze's counsel, filed the motion withdrawing the slander suit yesterday.

ILLEGAL RE-ENTRY CHARGE

CLEVELAND (AP)—U.S. Commissioner Herbert A. Horn has ordered bond of $15,000 and set a hearing for Oct. 24 for Leonard A. Smart, charged with illegal re-entry into the United States.

The U.S. Immigration Service said Smart was deported to his native Canada in 1948 and returned without permission. A charge of first-degree murder against him in the Aug. 15 slaying of Louis Hamblin of Cleveland was dropped by Medina County authorities recently.

FORGERY CASE CONTINUES

CLEVELAND (AP)—Wilbur H. Ficken, 45, pleaded innocent Tuesday in Municipal Court to a forgery charge. Judge Hugh A. Corrigan raised his bond from $500 to $5,000 and continued the case to Oct. 26.

Police said Ficken admitted forging checks of Mrs. Howard E. Cregar of Rocky River while he was employed at the investment firm of Prescott & Co. Ficken estimated the shortage in her account was $50,000, police said. They said the shortage would be nearly $73,000.

43 Arrested For Assassination Plot

ACCRA, Ghana (AP)—Forty-three men, including leading political opponents of President Kwame Nkrumah, were arrested Tuesday night on charges of plotting to assassinate him.

Among them were Dr. Joseph Danquah, opposition candidate in Ghana's 1960 presidential election; opposition leader Joseph Appiah, son-in-law of the late Sir Stafford Cripps, once chancellor of the British Exchequer, and former Social Welfare Minister Patrick Quaidoo, ousted from Nkrumah's Cabinet last May.

Three members of Parliament and seven women also were arrested, the latter on unspecified charges.

The roundup brought to about 370 the number of persons held under Ghana's preventative detention act, which permits internment "political undesirables" up to five years without trial.

September Jobless Drops By 457,000

WASHINGTON (AP) — Joblessness dropped by 457,000 in September and should decline below four million this month for the first time in a year, the Labor Department reported today.

At 4,085,000, the September unemployment total was 6.8 per cent of the civil labor force—a disappointingly small change from the August rate of 6.9 per cent, equivalent to the high point of the recession.

However, the department's manpower expert, Dr. Seymour Wolfbein, said there were elements in the September picture which indicate there should be "some real improvement" in October.

Joblessness among adult men dropped more than seasonally, as did long-term unemployment.

There also was a drop in the number of workers working short hours for economic reasons.

Total employment dropped by 1.5 million in September to a total of 67,038,000.

This was about twice the decline normally associated with the return of young workers to school, and was attributed to the severe curtailment of farm work due to Hurricane Carla during the week in which the Bureau of Labor Statistics made its job survey.

Konev Warns Army Chiefs In Europe

BERLIN (AP) — Marshal Ivan S. Konev, commander of Soviet forces in East Berlin, has warned the U.S. Army commander in Europe against taking any action that might upset prospects of East-West talks on Berlin.

This was announced Tuesday night by a Soviet Embassy spokesman. There were reports the tough, aging marshal was complaining about the resumption of U.S. military police patrols on the autobahn linking West Berlin with West Germany — 110 miles away.

The Soviet spokesman said Konev's letter was sent to Gen. Bruce C. Clarke, commander of the U.S. Army in Europe, under whose orders the patrols were resumed Sept. 23 after a nine-year lapse.

The patrols were resumed after two U.S. soldiers were detained on the autobahn for six hours by East German Communist police. The action was, in effect, a warning to East Germany to keep hands off U.S. military traffic to Berlin.

Konev took the line that any undue steps by U.S. authorities might rock the boat and ruin prospects for a peaceful settlement of the Berlin issue, the Soviet spokesman said.

Former commander of the Warsaw Pact armies, Konev was pulled from retirement for the East German assignment in August after tension rose over Berlin and the Soviet threat to sign a separate peace treaty with East Germany. Such a treaty, the Soviets warn, would place Allied lifelines to Berlin under the control of the East Germans.

A U.S. Army spokesman at Clarke's Heidelberg headquarters confirmed that the general had received a message from Konev and had answered it.

High Court to Hear E. Liverpool Case

LISBON — The State Supreme Court on Friday will hear the appeal of two former East Liverpool men convicted nearly three years ago of a 1952 burglary at Burbick's hardware store in East Liverpool.

The appellants are Ira Cunningham, 55, now serving a term of 1 to 5 years in Ohio Penitentiary on conviction of attempting to bribe a prospective juror before the burglary trial in November, 1958, and Jerry Raimond, 34, former merchant policeman. Cunningham is a former East Liverpool policeman.

Prosecutor G. William Brokaw will present the state's case. It marks the second time that this particular case has been before the Supreme Court.

To begin with Cunningham and Raimond won their appeal to the 7th Court of Appeals which reversed the trial in common pleas court on grounds the defendants were not brought to trial within three terms of court following indictments in April of 1956.

Brokaw appealed that decision successfully in the State Supreme Court which remanded the case to the appellate court for hearing on other points.

The appellate court then sustained the trial court, and Cunningham and Raimond appealed to the Supreme Court where final decision will be made after the hearing Friday.

Raimond has been free under bond since arraignment in 1956.

Chest Drive Depends on YOU!

United Fund campaign leaders are making no prediction about the outcome of the current drive but they're certain of one thing. It all depends on YOU!

Nevertheless, they are optimistic about reaching the $81,767 goal and their enthusiasm has generated exuberance among the various team workers who started out today to seek funds that are needed by the 12 local "red feather" agencies.

Open your hearts and your purse strings when a team worker asks for your United Appeals donation. What you and your neighbor do may well spell the success of the community chest and the continued operation of the agencies which are so closely-knit in our city.

All of us are familiar with the good work of the Boy and Girl Scouts, the Home for Aged Women, the Salvation Army, Catholic Charities, the Home Nursing Service, the local hospitals, the YWCA, our championship Legion Quaker City Band, the Red Cross and the Memorial Building. They touch most of our lives in one way or another and all are vital to the splendid community that Salem is.

Their budgets have been pared to meet minimum requirements. Therefore, the $81,767 over-all goal is a realistic one. It can be met if YOU help!

If Hammarskjold Had Lived

Dag Hammarskjold's tragic death brought to finality the raging issue he was deeply involved in when he died.

Should the secretary-general of the United Nations think of himself as the executive director of an international agency pledged to keep the peace?

Or should a secretary-general think of himself as the moderator of an international debating society that strives to avert war by persuasion and is helpless if persuasion fails?

Hammarskjold thought of himself as an executive director.

He believed it was his job to take action to keep the peace; that was what he had been doing in the Congo.

He had done this first when he took steps to oust the Russians who tried to muscle into the Congo when it was thrown on its own after its release from Belgium. The Soviet Union thereupon marked him for ruin, exactly as it previously had marked Trygve Lie for ruin when he took steps to block Russian seizure of all of Korea.

The Soviet Union, dominated by a political movement that always has relied heavily on dialectics, wants the United Nations to be a debating society, nothing more.

THE HARD FACT is that all the other major powers in the United Nations also want to be a debating society insofar as action against them is concerned, though they want it to keep the peace with military action if necessary insofar as action against others is concerned.

Nations with the power to act unilaterally do not want to surrender their power or tolerate interference with their power.

The Soviet Union does not want a secretary-general of the United Nations who might thwart its aims, but neither does the United States want a secretary-general who might thwart its aims.

Nor do Britain and France want to be thwarted, as they were five years ago this month when the United Nations demanded a cease-fire in Egypt. Israel complied immediately. Britain and France continued their attack for another week before complying, and many Britons and Frenchmen still feel that their governments should have refused to recognize U.S. authority.

IF HAMMARSKJOLD had lived, he would be in the thick of this issue. He had joined it squarely in the Congo, where he was using U.N. military force to subdue an uprising in Katanga Province — not because he denied the right of that province to engage in civil war but because he believed the presence of outsiders in the Katanga military force constituted interference, in the Congo.

The fight in the United Nations is not over Hammarskjold's successor. It is over the job a successor will succeed to — whether it will be that of moderator for an international debating society or of executive director of an international agency.

For all present purposes, the issue died with Hammarskjold, because it was essentially his own issue. His successor will be in no position to agitate it. That may very well be the first requirement of his successor—that he won't agitate anything.

Rusk Has Responsibility

By coincidence, two sets of negotiations of great interest to Americans have been going on at the same time.

While Secretary of State Rusk has been negotiating with Foreign Minister Gromyko over a formula to ease tension over the never-settled issue of a divided Germany and a divided Berlin, representative of United Auto Workers and auto manufacturers have been negotiating a settlement to keep peace in the auto industry.

There are people who think negotiations in the auto industry are a mockery. They would like to see the UAW broken up and its negotiators, especially Walter Reuther, president of the union, dispersed to the far corners of the earth.

And there are unionists who would like to get rid of auto company management because they don't like the idea of negotiating. They'd prefer to dictate.

Yet, the way things are it's gratifying all around that no one has the economic power to dictate terms in our great industrial complexes. Negotiation brings doubts and disappointments, but it is, all things considered, the best possible solution to a problem that otherwise could not be solved at all.

THE THOUGHT of having to negotiate with the Soviet Union is repulsive.

But before we dismiss negotiation as something suitable only for appeasers, we should give ourselves the benefit of this doubt:

If we had responsibility for government action—if to that extent our tongues and thoughts were responsive to duty instead of to the privilege of criticizing — what would we think about negotiating over the German issue?

Would we not then think it was our urgent duty to make any agreement we could reach with honor, if it eased tension and lessened the possibility of war?

If the result of failure to carry on negotiations might be an outbreak of war, would we not be just as heedful of the value of negotiation as we are when we urge industrial negotiators to hammer out their differences to avert a deadlock.

CRITICISM is subject to no restraint when critics are subject to no responsibility. Nothing tempers criticism like responsibility.

We do not believe Secretary of State Rusk is going to surrender the honor of the United States by negotiating with Foreign Minister Gromyko.

The United States is not going to live in shame because it tried to keep open the possibility of negotiation, instead of slamming the door.

All who are indulging themselves in criticism of what looks to them like a "deal" should ask themselves what they would do in behalf of their countrymen if they had Dean Rusk's job.

Once Over

A completely disarmed world seems to be a wonderful prospect. But take away all its weapons and Man could become extra disturbing. His words and gestures alone could constitute international breach of the peace.

If a king, dictator or other ruler is deprived of his fighting equipment what will he depend on in a crisis, a bass voice on the phone, 5 o'clock shadow, past performances and a cry of "Take off your glasses!"?

It will hardly be possible to do away with man's differences of opinion, egotism, and quarrelsome nature. His behavior without a gun in the locker could be terrorizing.

If one nation gets tough with another will the latter issue ultimatum "Twenty-four hours to debate this or do we start unrestricted name-calling!"

When one country tells another "This is an insult to our national honor and we must begin hurling opinions at you at once," it will be fairly sure to bring the reply, "Your loud voice constitutes an aggressive act. Continue it and we shall attack you with every shadow boxing technique we possess and call all dictionaries and cuss word lexicons to the colors."

Man is hard to get along with, even when peaceful. Tell him he must give up a squirrel on bird gun and he can blow his stack. For real peace it will be necessary to change human dispositions, which can't be done by committee vote.

We have seen many a bloody battle begin when one man said to another, "Aw, can't you be as peaceful as I am?" in the course of an argument over a bus transfer, a neighborhood boundary line or a four ball.

President Kennedy expressed the hope of mankind. We are all for disarmament, give or take a few bricks, tomatoes and spitballs. But it will take some doing and is no weekend job.

JERSEY MAN was arrested for driving a car 30 years without a license. He evidently wanted time to overcome his disapproval of idea.

Wisconsin has made safety belts in cars compulsory. Here is a state which has decided that in safety first attitudes it has to stand for safety first.

"Yes, the Soviet government is conducting nuclear tests and creating new weapons. It will continue to do so in pursuit of a policy of peace and complete disarmament," Mr. Gromyko. This is like a firebug saying, "Yeah, I am spraying the whole neighborhood with gasoline and testing new torches in order to stop fires and do away with fire departments."

Remember away back when you weren't even supposed to know where Sierra Leone and Mauritania were located, least of all in breakfast table conversations?

William Zeckendorf, country's most famous buyer of big real estate properties, is reported acquiring control of Yonkers and Roosevelt tracks. But we still think he will never be able to create a horse with two cocktail lounges or a skyscraper with a tendency to spavins.

Quick Driver, Follow Any Car!

Inside Labor By Victor Riesel

HOUSTON, Tex.

This port city on the Buffalo River is a long way from London town on the Thames where I first heard the story of some strange goings on in Tokyo earlier this summer.

Some of the men who sail the seas in the big ships which put in here back up reports that an American union helped organize a maritime conference in Japan at which Soviet, Red Chinese and other Communist waterfront labor leaders shackled the United States — and got that parley to urge that its members not transport the most modern of defense weapons.

That parley ran for three days in mid-June. Its host was the same Japanese labor federation, Sohyo, which threw tens of thousands of rioters into the streets in past years to demonstrate against American defense strategy and bases.

THE MEETING, I'm told, was officially known as the Pacific-Asian Dockworkers Conference. Just to make it easy for the boys to denounce us, the sessions were run in four languages — Russian and Chinese as well as Japanese and English.

This sort of consortium doesn't fall into place as easily as fish into a barrel at Billingsgate.

There had to be an organizing committee — and we ought to make it known that among this group of arrangers was the powerful leader of a powerful section of a mighty powerful union, namely Harry Bridges' International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union.

Representing that union on the arrangement committee was Bridges' lieutenant, Jack Hall. He runs the politically and industrially influential ILWU in Hawaii.

The Islands just happen to be second only to the Pentagon as a high command center of U.S. defenses.

Jack Hall, the Longshoremen's Hawaiian regional director, had much to do with the Tokyo conference's Preparatory Committee decisions during its June 12 to June 14 sessions.

SITTING WITH HIM were leaders of the waterfront "ultras" — the dockers of Russia, Peiping China, Australia (where Communist influence is notorious), Indonesia, Japan, and Okinawa. There were to be Mexican delegates, but the government "asked" them not to attend.

What this preparatory committee decided is obvious from the formal resolutions passed by the "delegates" after they kicked the U.S. around.

They attacked Washington for not thinking of Fidel Castro as a great ally. They blasted the anti-Communist invasion of Cuba.

They took the line, later used by Anastas Mikoyan, which called for the abandonment of all military bases.

They called for an atom free-zone in the Asian section of the Pacific — where, of course, we are the only force so equipped.

They sent word to all longshoremen to "refuse to work" ships headed for such areas — and urged them not to load nuclear devices or rockets.

SINCE THE ILWU was one of the conference sponsors, and Jack

Hall was on the preparations committee, it doesn't take Einsteinian logic to conclude that this could well become ILWU policy.

This becomes one of the year's most significant developments. After all, the ILWU's membership controls all vital loading on the U. S. West Coast wharfs and Hawaiian docks as well.

Will they or won't they load rockets and nuclear devices? Someone ought to ask right now. We may have to load those in a hurry some day.

There was a great approving roar when a Chinese Communist "delegate" said there were no foreign troops in North Korea.

The Pacific-Asian Dockworkers Conference then called on the United States to get out of South Korea, as well as Japan, Okinawa — and the world, I presume.

By this time you get the general idea. I'm just a naive lad from Manhattan's concrete canyons. But it sounds to me like this outfit has one big hate — the United States. It also seems to me we and the U.N. still are technically at war with the Communist Chinese — or are the truce talks and meetings at Panmunjom merely a rehearsal for a movie.

SOMEONE ought to ask ILWU President Harry Bridges — who is on record as saying that it was really Konrad Adenauer who started all the crisis in Berlin — does he back up the Tokyo Conference? Will he permit his men to work ships, rockets and nuclear equipment?

Or is Harry Bridges a man apart with privileges the rest of us don't enjoy — namely the right to decide whether or not vital military equipment can be loaded whenever our military believes it should be.

U.S. Policy Kibitzers Complicate Rusk's Task

Not long ago President Kennedy talked about the need for the press to be more careful about what it printed on military matters that might become useful to an enemy. But the President now finds himself in an embarrassing position because, while his secretary of defense has effectively muzzled military officers so that they can't discuss even abstract ideologies, no such restraint has been applied to members of the President's own party in Congress who make speeches that the Soviet government, for instance, can interpret as a sign of the weakening of American policy in the current negotiations.

While Mr. Kennedy uses strong and resolute words, there are at least a half-dozen unofficial secretaries of state who give to the "unaligned" nations, as well as to the Soviets, the impression that Mr. Kennedy may retreat after all.

HERE ARE SOME of the spokesmen for the Democratic party in Congress and some of the things they say:

1. Sen. J. William Fulbright, Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, told a news conference in London a few days ago that the United States is "not without fault" in the Berlin controversy. Just what he means isn't clear, but he gave the impression that the United States has done something to precipitate the Berlin crisis. He is also quoted as saying later that "a change in the status quo (in Berlin) might be mutually valuable" to East and West.

2. Sen. Hubert Humphrey, Minn., in London on a five-week fact-finding tour of Europe which will take him behind the Iron Curtain, told reporters questioning him about the Fulbright statement, that "our position has not changed a bit." He himself, however, only a day earlier in Rome had indicated that the United States might "negotiate" recognition of the temporary wartime boundary between Poland and East Germany as a permanent one.

Though he stressed that he does not speak for the secretary of state, the fact that Mr. Humphrey is assistant floor leader of the President's party in the Senate and chairman of the Senate disarmament subcommittee lends weight to his words and gives the "neutralist" world encouragement in their support of Moscow's position.

3. Sen. Mike Mansfield, Mont., floor leader of the Democratic party, also has repeatedly indicated that he thinks it would be all right to change the status of Berlin. He calls for a "free city" and concedes the possibility of a change in its status. The announced position of the United States involves no such concession.

4. Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, Me., an influential member of the President's party in the Senate who recently returned from a visit to Berlin, has just told the press that the United States should consider the possibility of giving "de facto" recognition to East Germany.

He added: "A change in status for Berlin should be explored, but in no case should we agree to a change which might weaken Berlin economically, militarily or politically."

He said all this after conferring with Gen. Lucius Clay, President Kennedy's special representative in West Berlin, and declared he reached the conclusion that both Gen. Clay and President Kennedy "have no intention of sacrificing or compromising any vital interest of the United States."

The West Germans themselves indicate that they believe West Berlin will wither on the vine naturally and disintegrate from an economic standpoint if recognition is given to the East German government.

IN ADDITION to the foregoing spokesmen — whose words are carefully read in Moscow and doubtless interpreted as a sign that Mr. Kennedy will recede at the proper moment — there are others involved in incidents reported in the newspapers of the world.

Thus, Gen. Clay had an off-the-record conference a few days ago with press representatives, and afterward stories were printed that he, too, feels that "de facto" recognition of the East German government is inevitable. He later issued a statement denying that he had said anything which could lead to the belief that America's position on Berlin was weakening.

Then there was a statement in the press over the weekend by Justice William O. Douglas of the Supreme Court of the United States, who has just returned from a visit to Outer Mongolia.

He urged that Outer Mongolia's government be immediately recognized by the United States and admitted promptly to the United Nations.

This happens to be at variance with the present policy of the Department of State and happens also to be something that antagonizes the Nationalist China government in Formosa on whose army America relies to help defend the Far East if another Korean-type war should arise there.

Mr. Douglas is known to be a Democrat and a friend of President Kennedy.

PUTTING IT all together, the Communists may well wonder whether these friends of the President and fellow members of his party are giving hints as to future policy.

Anyone who knows anything about diplomatic negotiation is aware that it's hard to negotiate if your adversary knows from the start that eventually you will give in anyway. All such comments naturally become news and are widely printed.

But one wonders whether these various spokesmen realize that, unlike the Republicans — who have a natural right to criticize and attack, and whose views are discounted abroad — they, as members of the President's own party, can by their utterances be construed to reflect the administration's real purposes despite its strong phrases.

One wonders also how much easier would be the task of the secretary of state, Dean Rusk, if he didn't have so many kibitzers formulating foreign policy for him in the press and over the worldwide radio waves.

Deplores Traffic Situation

Now that we have had another serious traffic accident I feel that it is time for our authorities to wake up and do something about the traffic situation.

We need not hire an expensive survey team of so-called traffic engineers. The results of the last expensive survey and installations do not seem to be something to brag about.

I would suggest that our officials contact the mayor of Anaheim, Calif., and secure a copy of their traffic ordinances.

Their main street is a four-lane street. They claim the traffic load is 24 million vehicles in the four lanes annually, yet they er (for the summer) and no one should be permitted to touch it.

The girl who is always "dying from the heat" should be given the desk closest to the unit. You should be at the other end of the room.

Mother's Favorite

Dear Ann: When my sister Judy lived at home she got whatever she wanted from Mom. Now that she is married, it's still going on — only worse.

Judy has had four babies in four years. Her husband barely makes a living. My dad is far from rich and there are many things we need but can't afford. Yet Mom buys clothes for Judy's kids, carries groceries over her and sits for them every Saturday and Thursday night.

Last week Mom and I went shopping for our winter clothes. She didn't get anything for herself although she needs shoes and a new coat. She spent $40 on dress clothes for Judy's kids. This burned me up. What can I do?—PLAIN MAD.

Dear Mad: Nothing. So stop trying. Your Mom has always put Judy first and she always will. It's too bad when married children are a financial burden to parents, but some parents promote it—so keep silent.

Plagued by Pledge

Dear Ann: Last year my husband and I signed a pledge card obligating us for a substantial amount of money. In recent months our business has gone bad and we've had to pay heavy medical and hospital bills. It's impossible to meet the pledge.

Yesterday we received a letter from the director of the organization with a warning that the matter would be placed in the hands of an attorney if the pledge was not paid within 60 days.

Are we legally obliged to pay? Please hurry the information. We are humiliated and worried.—KZO.

Dear KZO: No ethical charity suits for collection of pledges.

Marital Necessity

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Everyone knows it is all but impossible to-day for a husband to fool his wife. But how about wives fooling husbands?

On the evidence, it's getting easier for them all the time. "No woman can pull the wool over my eyes," brags many a husband. Such men are pitiful examples of self-delusion.

Usually a woman has pulled the wool over their eyes so long ago they have become used to it. They have forgotten what a clear view is like.

Civilization ties husbands in knots; it merely gives wives more loose threads to knit to their own purpose.

A man is kept so busy trying to fool his boss he doesn't have the time to fool his wife, and attempts it only in what he regards as emergencies. As a result he usually fails.

But fooling a husband is both a game and a duty to a wife. She regards it as a marital necessity, for she feels if she doesn't keep him fooled she can't keep him happy.

The classic ways by which women fool their husbands are to act dumb and to say one thing to them when they mean something else.

Example of the first way: Husband, going over check stubs: "Here's one you wrote for $150. It looks like it says, 'frammis oglestack.' What in the world was that for?"

Wife, innocently: "Oh, dear, you know I can't read my own handwriting, but I know it was for something terribly important."

Actually, what she did write down was "frammis oglestack." To her it stands for $150 for 10 charm school lessons to lose weight and improve her personality. But she knows that if she told her husband she spent the money for this vital purpose, he'd go through the ceiling—thus creating an unnecessary repair bill.

Example of the second way: "Wife: 'Dear, you're looking a bit shabby, and you really can't afford to in your business. Promise me you'll buy yourself a new suit today.'"

Husband, flattered by her interest in his appearance: "Guess you're right at that. I will." Here what the wife really meant wasn't, "You look shabby," but "I feel shabby." As soon as he buys one new suit, she'll buy two new dresses.

Many Economic Signs Point To Slash In Unemployment

NEW YORK (AP)—A drop in long-time unemployment could be the most significant news so far in the business recovery period.

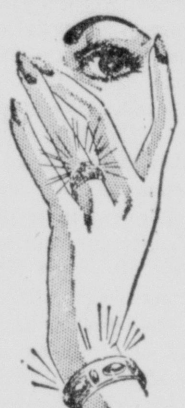

That is because it could herald the rise in consumer spending that both business and government have been awaiting as the signal of really good times ahead.

Government spending is up. Business spending for inventories and plans for more spending for expansion are up. Together they have given the industrial sector of the economy a quick climb out of the recession low point of last March. But consumer spending has lagged.

That lag is shown in retail sales reports, which are little better than even with last year when the recession was the big news.

One reason given for the continuing cautious consumer buying and increased saving is the historical one. Usually consumer confidence takes several months to revive after the recession low has been turned.

But another reason is the total of unemployment. For months it has stuck stubbornly close to 7 per cent. Although unemployment benefits, relief payments, and individual savings help cushion the blow, there is still a drag on consumer spending.

And even those with jobs tend to fret about their future when they see their neighbors' laid off or going onto short week schedules—or worse still, unable to find new jobs after weeks and even months of idleness.

Much of the joblessness during the recession was in the industrial sector of the economy. And in the early months of the recovery factories tended to increase the length of the work week rather than take on new hands.

But the average work week has recovered most of its loss. Increasing factory output should mean more jobs, over and above the gains in mechanization that have seen more goods turned out from the same man hours of labor.

New orders increased on manufacturers' books in August, the Department of Commerce reports. Private reports indicate the trend continued in October. Increases in production and in hiring are reported from various sectors.

Steel output is now at its highest point in 1961. New orders point to good levels in October, and steelmen are now predicting a further gain in November.

Construction spending went to a new high in September.

All of this, and other good economic signs, should add up to further cuts in the unemployment total. Federal officials are now predicting that stubborn 7 per cent may be licked soon, and that the total may be around 6 per cent before the year is over.

The Social Notebook

THE SEPTEMBER meeting of the Harris Class of the First Christian Church was held recently in Fellowship hall of the church. Forty-four members and two guests, Mrs. Forest Stark and Mrs. Fred Schramm, enjoyed a pot-luck supper.

Mrs. Verda Harris was in charge of the supper, assisted by Mrs. Thelma Murphy, Mrs. Mary Lease, Mrs. Nancy Tressler and Mrs. Esther Dunn.

President Harold Asty conducted a short business meeting, opened with prayer by William Pritchard.

Music was the theme of the program presented by Mr. and Mrs. Merle Miller, Clyde Lindenman, class chorister, led the group in a hymn sing, with Mrs. Schramm as guest pianist. A ladies quartet, composed of Mrs. Tressler, Mrs. Lawrence Goddard, Mrs. Harold Deitch and Mrs. Richard Wilson, sang "When He Calls." Clifford Zimmerman, Mr. Asty, Mr. Pritchard and Richard Stirling comprised the men's quartet which sang "I Love Him Because He First Loved Me."

Mrs. Tressler and Mr. Lindenman sang "What a Friend We Have in Jesus." The program closed with the double quartet singing "The Old Rugged Cross," with the class joining in. Reciting of the Mizpah benediction concluded the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Kyle invited the group to their Stewart Ave. home for the Oct. 24 meeting. Election of officers and a Scotch auction will be the features of the evening.

EIGHTY PERSONS attended a coverdsh dinner at Centennial Park Saturday evening in honor of Charles Cozad of Park Ave., a 32-year postal veteran who retired recently.

His fellow employes presented him with a rod and reel and a bouquet of red roses to Mrs. Cozad. The Wives of Post Office Employees presented a money tree to Mrs. Cozad who was active in their organization.

Following the dinner, an open house reception was held for friends and neighbors. Mrs. Ray Reich presided at the punch bowl.

Mr. and Mrs. Cozad left Tuesday for Silver Springs, Fla.

THE BOOK CLUB began its 51st season Monday evening with Mrs. Frank Hoskin, president, presiding at the meeting. The theme of the year will be "Points To Ponder."

Mrs. Robert Dunn gave a review of the book, "Mary Lincoln," by Ruth P. Randall. She stressed the point brought out by the author that Mary Todd Lincoln was a warm and sympathetic woman.

Mrs. Glenn Bates, music critic, discussed television and screen personalities in the field of music and commented on their performances.

The musical portion of the program was presented by Mrs. Rollin Herron in a solo, "A Poor Wayfaring Stranger." A duet was given by Mrs. Herron and Mrs. Frank Huber, "Down In The Valley." Mrs. Huber was accompanist on the autoharp.

The next meeting will be at 6:30 p.m. Nov. 16, when the husbands will be guests at a dinner in Trinity Lutheran Church.

OPEN HOUSE was held Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Lutsch of RD 2, Salem, in honor of the recent marriage of their daughter, Patricia, to Roger Ascione of Youngstown.

Fifty guests were registered from the area. The table was in white lace over pink with a wedding cake centerpiece and crystal and silver appointments. Miss Cheryl Lutsch, Mrs. Walter Lutsch and Mrs. Martin Lutsch served.

LATECOMERS CLUB met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Herb Haschen of Liberty St.

Honors in "500" were given to Mrs. Frank Soldo, Mrs. Karl Stoudt and Mrs. Gene Hanna.

The next meeting Nov. 6 will be a dinner at Antony's in Youngstown.

THE LOCAL Eagles Auxiliary will be hostesses at a sectional meeting Sunday at 1 p.m. at the Eagles Hall.

Plans for the event were made at a special meeting Monday evening. Mrs. Dale McCormick of Leontonia, a guest, will serve as chairman for the Sunday affair, which will be attended by 14 area Auxiliaries. Initiation of new members will highlight the meeting. The guest speaker is Mrs. Charles Vanis of Geneva, state secretary.

Mrs. Herman DeCrow presided at Monday's meeting, with 22 in attendance.

GOSHEN HARMONY CLUB held a family coverdsh picnic at Centennial Park Thursday evening, with 28 members present.

The next meeting will be Oct. 26 at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Hutcheson of Calla Road.

THE REGULAR meeting of the Women of the Moose will be held this evening at 8.

"Christmas in October" is the theme, and members are to bring gifts for the children at Mooseheart.

Lisbon Social

The Lisbon Teachers Assn. Monday night held its initial meeting of the school term at Lincoln School.

Mrs. Arlene Homan, president, conducted a business session. Reports were given and plans made to hold a chili supper at Lincoln School after the football game Oct. 13. The public is invited.

Husbands and wives of the members were guests.

For the program, Col. Leo McCarthy of Youngstown, former area director of Civil Defense for 14 counties, spoke on "Civil Defense." He was introduced by Alex Rutecki, county Civil Defense coordinator here. Miss Dorothy Cameron was program chairman.

A social time followed, with refreshments served by Miss Nancy Shattuck and her committee.

The next meeting of the group will be Nov. 14 and will feature a Hawaiian theme.

FIFTY WERE PRESENT when members of the Christian Youth Fellowship and councilors of the First Christian Church were hosts to the Alliance C.Y.F. Sunday afternoon.

The young people enjoyed a tour through the Tuscarora Museum west of Lisbon and later a wiener roast at N. Park Place near the Fred Reese home where the business and worship service was held when inclement weather developed.

Miss Carmen Gibson, president, presided.

Councilors for the group are Mrs. Fred Reese, Mrs. Richard Mason and Miss Meretta Ikirt.

The Altar and Rosary Society of St. George's Catholic Church met at the parish hall Monday night, with Mrs. William Thompson, president, conducting the business.

The group voted to make a donation to the Lisbon Teachers Assn. scholarship fund and also to cancel the benefit which had been previously scheduled for Oct. 28.

Miss Mary Smith received the attendance prize.

Program chairmen, Mrs. John Vokovich and Mrs. Robert Harold, showed colored slides on "The Holy Sacrifice of the Mass" 28.

and of "The Sacrament of Matrimony".

Lunch was served by a committee composed of Mrs. Charles Rogan, Mrs. Paul McGaffie, Mrs. Louis Vay and Mrs. Harry Serago.

On Nov. 6 Atty. Joseph J. Barozzi will speak to the group on "Wills". Members should have questions ready for a discussion period which will follow.

MRS. R. V. PARRY was hostess to the Monday Club this week at her home on Signal Road.

Mrs. C. F. Wright presented the program on "Architecture, 1803 - 1961."

Mrs. Robert Leggett, president, presided. Lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. R. F. Marlatt.

The next meeting will be Oct. 16 with Miss Dorothy Cameron at her home on Prospect St.

Mrs. Gail McCune, president, presided Monday night over the regular meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of John J. Welsh American Legion at the post home.

During the business, a citation was read from national headquarters, awarded in connection with Lisbon's "Miss Poppy", Linda McCamon, having been chosen as the national Miss Poppy.

A donation to the Lisbon Teachers Loan Assn. and scholarship fund was granted.

Announcements made were that the fall conference will be held Oct. 27 and that the Glenmoor unit will be host to the county council Oct. 17 with a masquerade party. It was also announced that a membership drive has begun and yearly dues are now due.

Lunch was served by Mrs. Robert Fife and her committee.

Nov. 6 will be the date of the next meeting.

Mrs. Vida Davies, president of the Mid-County Republican Club, is reminding all members of the meeting to be held tonight at 8 in Village Hall.

Mrs. Harold Armstrong of Columbiana will review the book "Conscience of a Conservative" by Sen. Barry Goldwater.

Plans will be formulated at this meeting for holding a dance Oct. 28.

Observance Held By Patmos Couple

The 35th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Melburn Waitman of Patmos was celebrated at a surprise party Saturday evening at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. David Barth of Patmos.

Assisting Mrs. Barth with the arrangements was another daughter, Miss Joyce Waitman of Akron.

Mr. Waitman and the former Hazel Wuthrick were married in Salem Oct. 2, 1926. They also have three grandchildren.

Forty relatives and friends were present from Salem, Beloit, Alliance, Sebring, Lima, Winona, Minerva, Columbiana, Akron, Pittsburgh, and St. Petersburg, Fla.

The refreshment table was centered with a two-tiered cake, decorated in coral, chartreuse and white. A bouquet of yellow mums and coral gladioli decorated the room. The couple received many gifts.

Retarded Children's Fund Gets $1,095

Frederick A. Kelly, chairman of the UCT-sponsored Retarded Children's Fund Drive, announced today that a total of $1,095.80 has been received to date from Salem citizens.

The campaign is in cooperation with the Columbiana County Retarded Childrens Council which conducts the annual fund program to support the centralized retarded children school at Elkton which draws children from all over Columbiana County. Funds raised in Salem will be turned over to the county group for this school project.

Kelly pointed out that contributions still may be sent to Howard R. Schaefer, treasurer, UCT Retarded Children Fund, Farmers National Bank. It is hoped that at least $1,500 will be obtained.

First operation in which X-rays were used was performed by John E. Gillman, Marietta, Ohio.

Pauline Jeanne Hayes Weds William D. Reed

Miss Pauline Jeanne Hayes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Hayes of 315 S. Madison Ave., and William Donald Reed, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Reed of 428 Franklin St., pledged their marriage vows Friday evening before the altar of the Southeast Friends Church.

Recording Firm Picks Selection By Salem Woman

It was like a dream come true — that was what Mrs. Helen Barbotski of MC 24, Salem, thought when she received word that her song, "Be Shatterproof" was going to be recorded.

Her song, which is a "hillbilly" type selection, will be included in an album entitled "Music of America," to be released by the Star-Crest Recording Co. of Hollywood. The company is also considering four other songs written by Mrs. Barbotski, and they are: "I Want," "I'll Wait for Tomorrow," "When Christmas Bells Are Ringing" and "If You Will But Wait."

Mrs. Barbotski has been writing poetry for 15 years, and has used several of her poems for the lyrics of her songs, including "Be Shatterproof," which is her first to be recorded. She collaborated with Miss Laura Dickson of Columbia, S. C., who writes the music for the songs. The ladies met during World War II while Mrs. Barbotski was working at Fort Jackson in Columbia, S. C., and attended church where Miss Dickson's grandfather was a Baptist minister. Miss Dickson has a degree in music and operates the Capital City Studios there.

Mrs. Barbotski wrote both the words and music for "If You Will But Wait." In 1958 she had a book of poetry published by the Blue River Poetry Club of Shelbyville, Ind., and sold about 200 copies. She has had over 50 poems published in numerous poetry magazines.

Mrs. Barbotski strongly believes that faith will see you through. "My faith in God and the prayers of many people have made this dream become a reality," she said.

A native of West Virginia, Mrs. Barbotski and her husband, John, have resided here six years. When asked what she plans to do with the proceeds from her recording, she said she hopes to buy a small home for her widowed mother, Mrs. Minnie Clem, 72, of Morgantown, W. Va.

Mrs. Barbotski has four children, S. Sgt. David Hitt of Anchorage, Alaska, William Hitt of Clarksburg, W. Va., Florence Hisey and Margie Holt of Morgantown, W. Va., and 14 grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Gray Mark Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Gray celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary Sunday from 2 to 4 p. m. with open house at the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gray of 2094 E. State St.

Mrs. Lewis Denkhous and Mrs. Ruth Frantz of Fort Myers, Fla., daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Gray, arrived Friday evening from Florida for the celebration.

Herbert Gross of Youngstown, a grandson, registered 125 guests from Ravenna, Cleveland, Salem, Fort Myers, Fla., Youngstown, New City, N. Y., Cuyahoga Falls, Kent and Winona.

Fall flowers were used throughout the house to decorate. An arrangement of mums in a crystal antique vase centered the table. Mrs. Bill Daniels of Fort Myers, Fla., a granddaughter, sent a 60th anniversary bell. A three-tier cake was served by Mrs. Leibert Barber, Mrs. Frank Stoudt and Mrs. Dean Heston.

Columbiana Clean-Up Days Set Oct. 12, 13

COLUMBIANA—Village Council has designated Oct. 12 and 13 as "Clean-Up Days" in the community.

Refuse pickups will be made those days.

Council, at its regular meeting last night, gave a second reading to the ordinance banning house trailers from the village, unless already established and occupied.

Chief of Police William McGuckin has been instructed to delve further into making arrangements for flu shots for village employees. Council approved to pay the expenses for the flu shots.

QUEEN ESTHER CLASS of the Grace United Church will meet tonight at 8 at the home of Mrs. James Sansenbaugh at 236 S. Elm St., with Mrs. T. A. Renkenberger as associate hostess.

Mrs. Walter Firestone will lead devotions. Members are reminded to take sweaters, mittens and other items for the packets.

Miss Naomi Riehl, bride-elect of Nelson Shaum, was honored recently when her cousin, Mrs. David Witmer, entertained with a kitchen shower.

The guests were the young girls of the Pleasant View Mennonite Church where Miss Riehl is a member. Sewing and games provided the entertainment.

The wedding of Miss Riehl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Riehl of RD 1 Columbiana, and Nelson Shaum, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Shaum of RD 1, Columbiana, will take place at 2:30 p.m. Sunday at the Pleasant View Mennonite Church.

A reception will follow at the home of the bride's parents.

THE HOBBY CLUB of Columbiana met this afternoon at the home of Mrs. William Stamets at 410 N. Main St. for luncheon.

The program featured a demonstration and a workshop on how to decorate Christmas balls.

MISS KATHRYN ESENWEIN'S second period College Preparatory English class will present the program for the Columbiana PTO meeting Wednesday, Oct. 11, at the high school auditorium. The title of the program is "Prose, Poetry, and Poise".

Tom Ballentine will be master of ceremonies and will begin the program on the subject of communications. During the program, this will be narrowed to specific types of communication. This will include poetry, plays, themes, conversation, and sometimes just sentences or phrases. Most of the material is original and was written by members of the class — Mary Anderson, Tom Austin, Tom Ballentine, Judy Churchfield, Janet Davis, Betsy Detwiler, Susan Ferrall, Deane Hetrick, Judy Kemper, Vaughn King, John Lindsay, Gail Miller, Nancy Richardson, Polly Roth, Bud Schmidt, Paul Schulz, Sherry Ward, and Becky Way.

One of the features will be a vocal duet by Michael Sweemey and Becky Way.

Leetonia PTA Backs 2-Mill School Levy

LEETONIA — At a meeting held Monday night, the Leetonia Parent-Teacher Association went on record endorsing the 2 - mill school levy which will be on the Nov. 7 ballots.

Victor Wood, superintendent of the Leetonia Schools, explained why an additional levy is necessary. He stated the levy is due to the rise in living costs and every item the board of education purchases costs more, including textbooks, teaching supplies and building maintenance and repairs.

Two levies now in force will expire in the near future. A 6 - mill levy expires in 1962 and a 2 - mill levy expires in 1968. Both of these levies are used for general operation of the school district.

Supt. Wood explained that school taxes in the Leetonia district compare favorably with other schools in Columbiana County and surrounding areas.

The PTA meeting held in the Orchard Hill School was well attended. The group approved the donation of $100 to the Community

Scholarship Fund.

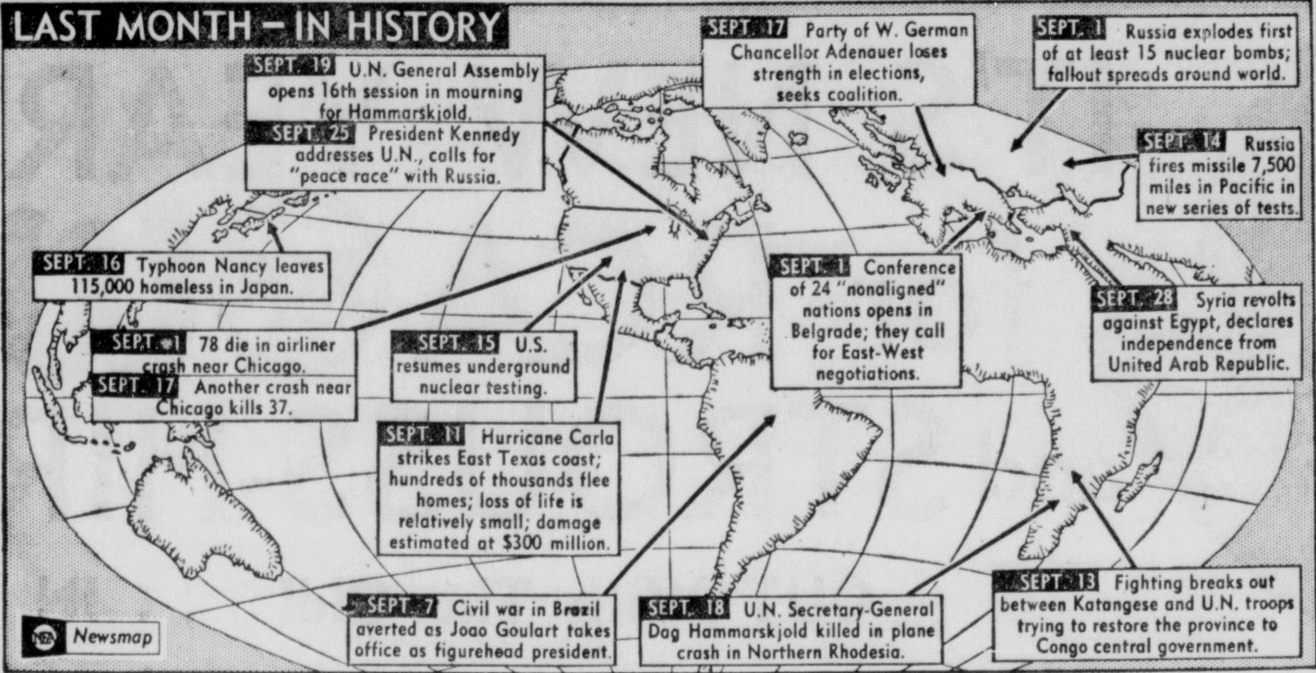

After the business meeting, parents attended sessions explaining the school's program. Teachers in all grades informed the parents concerning subjects taught in the schools and what was expected of the pupils.

George Hanna, high school principal, stressed the need for independent study and research on the part of the high school students, and also told the parents that state universities will accept only well-qualified academically prepared students within the next two years.

The first grade room mothers served home made cookies and coffee.

THE BAND MOTHERS will meet at Leetonia High School Monday, Oct. 9, at 8 p.m. All new band members mothers are especially invited.

William Kennedy of Pittsburgh spent Monday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kennedy of Somer St.

Deaths, Funerals

Jerry B. Roberts

Jerry B. Roberts, 57, of RD 2, Beloit, died at 10:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Alliance City Hospital.

Born at Conneaut, March 9, 1904, he was the son of Eva Lane Roberts of Conneaut and the late Robert C. Roberts.

He was employed as a fitter by the Morgan Engineering Co. in Alliance for 20 years, and prior to that was employed by the Mullins Manufacturing Co. for 10 years.

Besides his mother, he leaves his wife, Gladys M. Burke, whom he married in February, 1927; three sons, Marvin of East Liverpool, Robert E. of Salem, James of RD 2, Beloit; two brothers, Kenneth and Clinton of Conneaut; two sisters, Mrs. Eva Johnson of Erie, Pa., Mrs. Gertrude Powell of Girard, Pa., and 10 grandchildren.

Services will be held Friday at 2 p.m. at the Stark Memorial.

Rev. Daniel Keister of Holy Trinity Lutheran Church will officiate, with burial in Hope Cemetery.

Friends may call at the Memorial Thursday from 7 to 9 p.m.

James E. Stewart

James E. Stewart, 57, of East Liverpool died of a heart attack at 2:45 p.m. Tuesday while working at the Homer Laughlin China Co. plant in Newell, W. Va.

Born in East Palestine Jan. 28, 1905, he was the son of the late Robert Stewart and Mrs. Alberta Stewart Blott. He married Mildred Slusser in 1924. She died in 1942.

Survivors include his mother of Leavittsburg; a son, James D. of East Palestine; two daughters, Mrs. Homer E. Todd of East Palestine and Sally Stewart of Los Angeles, Calif.; a half-brother, Baird Stewart of East Palestine and two half-sisters, Mrs. Natalie Shaffer of Alliance and Mrs. Raymond Stanley of Freedom, Pa.

Services will be held at 10 a.m. Thursday at the Arner Funeral Home in Chester, W. Va., with Rev. William Claghorn of the Chester Westminster Church officiating.

Burial will be in Glenview Cemetery at East Palestine.

Friends may call at the funeral home tonight.

Salvation Army

of sadness had turned to one of joy and relief. Here was another person thankful that the Salvation Army could meet her need.

A BOY OF 12, we'll call him Tommy, had a look of discouragement because he was afraid he would not be able to attend the Salvation Army camp this year.

Tommy's home life wasn't very good. He knew that his parents would never give him the money needed to have a vacation. We found that Tommy wanted so much to get out of the house for this 10-day period. He had attended the camp before and he knew that there he would receive food, fun and fellowship. The Salvation Army saw to it that Tommy was able to spend 10 days at camp.

WE HAVE THE STORY of the family who had much sickness in the house and the mother with another new baby. A call from the doctor came to the Salvation Army, asking us to look into the home and do what we could.

Upon our arrival we found no fuel, no food and no milk for the baby. We quickly provided the necessary coal, food and milk until the father was able to get back on his feet.

We have met with the cold hungry transient who walked most of the day and night and was almost at the point of freezing and starving. We were able to feed him and give him some odd jobs around the building until he was able to go on.

A call came to us at Thanksgiving time about a couple who were up in years and had nothing to eat for their holiday meal.

We were able to secure a turkey and all the trimmings and deliver it to them at the supper hour. When I entered the house, I found that their evening meal consisted of bologna sandwiches. They were overjoyed when they saw what we had for them. I am sure they enjoyed this meal more than we will ever know.

These are just a few examples of what the Salvation Army is able to accomplish in Salem because of the United Fund.

TRUCKER IS FINED

Raymond Klements, 38, of Briggsville, Pa., was fined $25 and costs today by Mayor Dean B. Cranmer for truck overload.

NLRB Rules Against Plant In Dispute

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government says a blouse factory can't move to South Carolina over a labor contract dispute and leave its employees in Philadelphia without jobs.

The National Labor Relations Board ruled Tuesday that Sidel Fashions, Inc., must provide jobs for the old employees either in Philadelphia or at the new plant in Ware Shoals, S.C.

It labeled the move South last year an unfair "device to wrest bargaining concessions" from the Garment Workers Union.

The NLRB gave Mac J. Cahn and Sidney L. Schiro, who now operate Personality Sportswear Inc., in Ware Shoals, two choices:

1. Write all employees discharged in the move and offer them substantially the same jobs they had at a reopened Philadelphia plant. The board said Cahn had indicated interest in reopening the plant if he could reach agreement with the union.

2. Offer them similar jobs at the Ware Shoals plant with full seniority and other rights, "dismissing, if necessary, all employees at the Ware Shoals plant," except for those who make an economy line blouse in which the South Carolina plant specializes.

Workers who decide to move to Ware Shoals, the NLRB said, will be paid travel and moving expenses for themselves and their families. Only nine of Sidel's 200 workers have gone to Ware Shoals so far, the board said.

Also, the board said employees should be reimbursed for loss of pay "they may have suffered as a result of the discrimination against them" since the Philadelphia plant was closed in January 1960.

At Ware Shoals, Schiro said the firm would appeal the decision.

Council

ordinance authorizing the rezoning of an area south of E. Pershing St. from R-1 (single family residential) to R-2 (general residential).

A proposed ordinance calling for the city to vacate Half St. was found to have a technical error and was turned over to Solicitor Scott McCorkhill to be corrected.

Mayor Dean B. Cranmer told Council that it may be necessary to detour traffic for two or three days when work is begun on widening the Ellsworth Ave. - State St. intersection. He said the traffic would probably be detoured over Jennings Ave. and 2nd St.

The mayor also asked Council to consider the purchase of two end-gate spreaders to be installed on city trucks and used to spread ashes on icy streets this winter. He said they could be bought for $720 apiece, installed.

The mayor also suggested the purchase of a used hi-lift which could be used to remove snow off the streets. He said a used machine could be bought for $4,500 to $5,000.

Water Pumpage Is Up
Aubrey Hayes, superintendent of utilities, reported that water pumpage for September totaled 41,739,000 gallons. He said that this was the first month this year that pumpage came close to equalling that for a corresponding month in 1960.

The solicitor was instructed to draw up an ordinance which would authorize the city to pay Mrs. C. R. Ringnell of 1040 N. Ellsworth Ave., $35 for some trees that were cut down on her property by mistake by park department workers who are clearing ground at Memorial Park.

A claim made by Frank Julian of the Lisbon Rd. that the city pay for a damaged sewer line on his property was rejected.

To Decide Reservoir Question
At the request of Harold Astry (D-3rd ward), a meeting of Council, the Utilities Commission and Supt. Hayes was set for next Tuesday night at City Hall to decide whether legislation should be introduced to open the city reservoir south of town to controlled fishing.

Astry said Hayes has prepared a great deal of literature on the subject which should help the legislators in making their decision on the fishing question. Several sportsmen attended last night's meeting and asked that the reservoir be opened for fishing.

Carl Abe (R-at-Large) asked that Council give consideration to amending a zoning ordinance which places restrictions on outdoor signs that may be erected by business establishments. Abe said he believes the requirements may be too strict and go beyond Council's original intentions of prohibiting signs which present a safety hazard.

Two public hearing dates were set. A hearing on the proposed rezoning of the south side of Columbia St. was set for Oct. 31. A hearing on the vacating of Half St. by the city was called for Nov. 14.

Blood Donors Aid Hoopes Who Faces Heart Operation

Donald Hoopes, 31, of RD East Rochester who has suffered a heart condition since 1948 when he contacted rheumatic fever, will enter St. Vincent's Charity Hospital in Cleveland Monday for an open heart surgery.

Mr. Hoopes, who is a farmer in the North Georgetown area, is the father of five children.

The entire community has helped in many ways in the last year to carry the family through this period of illness.

Curt Mosher of the Damascus Ruritan Club is chairman of the blood donor committee to obtain a positive blood for the operation. At the present time enough donors have responded and are giving blood through the Central Clinic Hospital.

Neighbors and other friends recently harvested Mr. Hoopes' crops for him.

FBI Nabs Man For Niles Bank Holdup

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The FBI has arrested a 31-year-old man in connection with the $40,000 holdup of a bank messenger July 16, 1959, at Niles, Ohio.

Louis F. Raucchi, who had been living in suburban Wilkinsburg, was arrested Tuesday night on a warrant filed in Cleveland.

Edward E. Hargett, agent in charge of the Cleveland FBI office, said the money was taken from Judy Whitney, messenger for McKinley Federal Savings & Loan of Niles.

The messenger was in a car, accompanied by a policeman, when the gunman jumped in the back door of the car, Hargett said.

Raucchi was indicted for armed robbery by the Trumbull County grand jury, Hargett said, and U.S. authorities issued a warrant charging him with unlawful flight to avoid prosecution.

Raucchi was lodged in Allegheny County jail and was to be arraigned today before a U.S. commissioner in Pittsburgh.

Nixon

he had nothing to do with any attempt to keep Knight from running for the job he held from 1953 through 1958.

Knight announced his candidacy for re-election in 1959, then withdrew after Nixon and other state party leaders threw their pre-primary support to Sen. William F. Knowland, who lost to Democrat Edmund G. (Pat) Brown. In 1956, Knight for a time fought Nixon's renomination for vice president.

J. Howard Edgerton, president of a Los Angeles savings and loan association and a former Knight campaign finance chairman, said he wouldn't be surprised if Knight named him as the supposed emissary.

Edgerton told newsmen, however, "I have never been an emissary of Dick Nixon on any matter in my entire life."

The term "cowboy" first was used in the state of New York. Here it was applied to a group of Tories who made a business of raiding the settlements that supported the American cause, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Syrian Army Chief Reports UAR Tactics

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP)—President Gamal Abdel Nasser's agents moved "like an octopus" to weaken the Syrian army, suffocate freedom of citizens and to fill prisons," says the new Syrian army commander.

Gen. Abdel Karim Zahredin told reporters Tuesday that was the reason the Syrian army rose against Nasser's United Arab Republic last week and forcibly severed Syria's 2½-year-old ties with Egypt.

Zahredin also accused Cairo agents of stealing millions of dollars worth of Syrian arms and equipment for shipment to Egypt.

He said Nasser's intelligence officers filled Syria's prisons with political prisoners and stifled individual liberties.

"The army's only aim was to redress wrongs and it was pledged not to interfere with the political life of Syria," he said.

Informed sources said that one way Nasser weakened the Syrian army was to send several dozen Syrian officers to Communist countries as students. They said Syria now has demanded their prompt return.

Interior Minister Adnan Kuwaty told newsmen the new Syrian regime had found a large number of political prisoners but had been unable to come up with an accurate count. Premier Mamoun Kuzbari estimated the number at about 30,000.

Kuwaty said the dreaded internal security system at one time had about 6,500 secret agents with a monthly payroll of about one million Syrian pounds — $2,800,000.

Syria will continue its ban on the Communist party, Kuwaty said, adding that "we will leave the question of political parties to Parliament."

Plan Distribution Of Surplus Foods

Robert Bycroft, county welfare director, today announced dates for the distribution of surplus food at four centers this month. The schedule follows:

Monday, Oct. 16, Salem City Hall, for city relief cases, soldiers and sailors, county relief and aid for aged.

Tuesday, Oct. 17, Wellsville City Hall.

Wednesday, Oct. 18, East Liverpool Central fire station.

Thursday, Oct. 19, Lisbon warehouse, county welfare relief, East Palestine relief, soldiers and sailors and aid for aged.

The time at Salem and Wellsville will be 9 a.m. until noon. At East Liverpool and Lisbon warehouse — 9 a.m. until noon for relief other than aid for the aged, which is from 1 to 3 p.m. for aged at both locations, Bycroft said.

Y Bar Is Closed By Federal Tax Collectors

All physical assets of the Y Bar & Restaurant, located at 796 S. Broadway, were seized by Internal Revenue Service agents Tuesday.

Internal Revenue Service officials at Youngstown said the owner of the establishment, Alton G. Yeagley of Salem, failed to comply with an order to pay delinquent taxes.

23 County Men Face Induction This Month

The Columbiana County Draft Board will send 15 men to Cleveland Oct. 10 for induction into the armed forces. The board also will send eight men for induction on Oct. 24, making a total of 23 for the month of October.

Forty-four men will go for pre-induction physicals on the 19th, according to Mrs. Elaine Griffith, draft board clerk.

TRUCK SKIDS INTO SIGN

A neon sign in front of Tom's Service Station, 525 N. Lincoln Ave., was damaged when it was struck by a truck which skidded on wet pavement at 1:34 p.m. Tuesday.

Police said a tractor-trailer, operated by Earl D. Sponseller, 43, of RD 1, Homeworth, slid on the slippery pavement and side-swiped the sign which is located in the curb lawn. The service station is owned by Tom Yuhaniak.

Prospects Brighten For Dag Successor

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Prospects appeared a little brighter today for East-West agreement on naming a U.N. secretary-general.

Informed sources voiced guarded optimism that a formula might be announced soon — perhaps when Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko meets Secretary of State Dean Rusk in Washington later this week.

Soviet delegates were giving the impression that their only demand on the naming of a temporary successor to the late Dag Hammarskjöld is that he be screened by the Security Council, where the Soviet Union holds the veto power.

But if the selection is left to the General Assembly alone, as advocated by some Western nations, the Soviet Union will refuse to recognize the new secretary-general "even if he were a Russian," one high Soviet source said. There is no veto in the General Assembly.

Latest speculation centered on a plan to name an acting secretary-general with five deputies. Two would come from the Soviet Union and the United States, the other three from Latin America, Asia and Africa.

There was no indication whether such a plan would be acceptable to the Soviets, who have proposed naming a secretary-general to work with three deputies representing East, West and neutrals.

The Soviets are telling other delegations that this formula is a far-reaching compromise and that they have dropped the idea that the deputies would exercise any veto over the actions of the temporary secretary-general.

Fund

"The United Fund is a way of life," he declared. "It is a manifestation of our American way of life in its finest degree." He gave brief resumes of each participating agency to show the good that each does in the community, and pointing out also that "about 40 per cent of the agencies' work is among youths, helping them to become good citizens of tomorrow."

He echoed the remarks of the campaign chairmen that the goal is a realistic one, designed to meet the basic needs of the individual agencies.

How Agencies Would Share
Based upon a 100 per cent collection, the fund allocations to various agencies are:

Memorial Building $14,250.
Boy Scouts $6,500.
Catholic Charities $3,825.
Girl Scouts $4,750.
Salvation Army $8,000.
Home For Aged Women $1,650.
Legion Quaker City Band $900.
City Hospital $4,500.
Central Clinic $2,250.
School of Practical Nursing $1,500.

The YWCA $7,500.
Red Cross $20,442.
Home Nursing Service $3,300.

$449,465 Collected In Personal Taxes

LISBON — A total of $449,465 has been collected in personal property taxes for the first half of 1961, according to Vincent C. Judge, county treasurer.

To date they have collected $446,495 in general tax and $2,969 in classified. Oct. 10 will be the closing date for this tax.

An estimated $129,000 for this period, along with delinquent tax, is anticipated, Judge said.

Criminal Trials At Lisbon Start Monday

LISBON — Prosecutor G. William Brokaw said today that he will begin criminal trials Monday, with Slade Brandle, 26, of Irontide, indicted for non-support of his four minor children, the first defendant.

The second case to be heard will be Dale Carnes of Wellsville for burglary of John Kuta repair shop, 1007 Center St., Wellsville.

The third case is David Bailey, 18, of Klondyke, charged with operating a motor vehicle without the owner's consent.

Thirty prospective jurors, along with grand jurors not previously used, will report at 9:30 a.m. Monday for jury duty before Judge Joel H. Sharp.

Reds Reveal Virgin Lands Crop Failure

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union has disclosed a virtual crop failure in Kazakhstan and the virgin lands. This may have a considerable effect upon both domestic and international policies.

Pravda reports that delegates to a Communist party meeting in the central Asian republic "spoke with great uneasiness about the fact that this year Kazakhstan cannot give the state much grain."

The first secretary of the Communist party in Kazakhstan, D. A. Kunayev, said: "We must report to the Congress (the 22nd Congress of the Communist party, meeting here Oct. 17) that we do not cope with our task in the production of grain. We cope with our tasks completely unsatisfactorily."

Last year Kazakhstan and the virgin lands also had a disastrous harvest. The first secretary, Nikolai Belyaev, was fired from his local job and from his top job on the Moscow Presidium.

The development of the virgin lands is a pet project of Premier Khrushchev, who sees those vast reaches of central Asia as a means of overtaking the United States in food production.

By all accounts, the harvest in western reaches of the Soviet Union is not much better.

The crop setback may have its influence on foreign policy. On the international front, the Soviet Union almost always lowers its demands when there is a bad harvest since, unlike the United States, it has no reserves on which to fall back.

Pravda blamed both bad weather and faulty techniques for the harvest failure.

Robert George, 23, of East Liverpool was admitted to East Liverpool Hospital with a puncture wound above his right eye, broken teeth and a slight concussion.

He was hurt in a one-car accident at 1 a.m. today on Rt. 172, four miles west of Lisbon. The Patrol said he went off the left side of the road and struck some trees. Officers said they would cite George for driving left of center after he is released from the hospital.

No one was injured in a two-car mishap on County Road 430, a mile and a half east of Rt. 170, near Calcutta, at 5:15 p.m. Tuesday.

According to the Patrol, John David Hopple, 59, of RD 2, East Liverpool, made a left turn into the path of an oncoming car operated by Robert A. Massey, 41, of East Liverpool. Hopple was cited for improper turning.

60 Attend Program At Apple Storage

Sixty attended the Ohio Apple Institute and Salem Fruit Growers' Ohio Apple Day and smorgasbord at the Greenford Storage plant Tuesday.

The group watched the operation at the packing plant and then were treated to an apple smorgasbord, prepared by the ladies of the Columbiana-Mahoning Horticultural Society.

Weather caused postponement of several of the orchard tours.

Howard Wells, manager of the Ohio Apple Institute, was in charge of the program.

Ohio Jobless Claims Show Slight Drop

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The number of Ohioans collecting regular unemployment benefits dropped slightly last week, state statistics showed today. It was a continuation of a gradual downward trend.

The number receiving checks last week stood at 77,846 compared with 78,406 the previous week, the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation reported. The total drop during September was 8,326.

Persons receiving special extended payments after exhausting regular benefits numbered 29,108. They numbered 30,363 the previous week.

The Doctor Says

By DR. H. T. HYMAN

Wide Awake Dreams of a Letter Reader

There are days when I have to pinch myself while I'm reading my mail just to make sure I'm not in the midst of some fantastic dream. Let me give you a few samples to illustrate what I mean:

"I have hesitated writing you about your column entitled 'Home Remedies are Not Cures for the Common Cold' for the reason that it is very difficult for a layman to discuss anything that has not been developed by a medical doctor or has AMA approval. (But) an engineer, a research chemist and myself developed a medicinal item for the relief of colds which has sold extensively on the open market. Further research was made at one of the large medical schools but because we did not have medical training we were unable to do anything with it. We spent thousands of dollars on TV advertising and took in large amounts of money but gave up when the pressure was put on. Your comments would be appreciated."

"Recently I read the article you thought up on osteoarthritis. You made the statement that there was no hope for the osteoarthritis at the present time — that one would have to grin and bear it. You even stated that diet was no benefit. Will you admit that osteoarthritis is a degenerative disease? If so can't our bodies be regenerated by eating the correct foods and drinking the right liquids and getting a correct balance of our blood?"

"I know it can be regenerated and many hundreds more know about this regeneration. . . . Hundreds, yes hundreds, have been cured by my doctor (a D.D.S.). And his patients and ex-patients are building a big research foundation for additional research yet the AMA says he is a quack."

"I think your article did a disservice to you and the profession and the people of the world for you flatfootedly said that there was no hope for the arthritic. If you want to know the name of the D.D.S. that cures arthritis through biochemistry, I will give you his name. He has been checked and double-checked by the AMA. They know what he can do. But his treatment is no good. Because he works through regeneration of the blood."

What makes these and similar letters appear so fantastic to me is the obvious fact that there's not a doctor, a medical school, a research foundation, a corner drug-gist, a pharmaceutical manufacturer or a government agency of the Health, Education and Welfare Dept. that wouldn't give their eye teeth to obtain one or other of these "cures."

in medicine were made by persons who were not physicians. Pasteur, the Curies, Roentgen and Ehrlich to name a few, at random.

The AMA has neither the power nor the desire to curb research much of which, at this very moment, is being performed by scientists trained in fields that are only remotely related to the field of medicine.

Neither I nor any other physician nor the AMA as a body can label a person a quack without exposure to an action for libel.

Only a governmental agency, such as the Food and Drug Administration, has the power to obtain an injunction to protect the public against worthless and fraudulent remedies and treatments! And such actions may take years to complete; as in the case against the "Koch Treatment" for cancer (actually sterile distilled water given by injection) which started in 1943 and continued until the seizure of equipment and material by U.S. marshals on Nov. 3, 1960.

Parmesan Cheese Flavors Green Rice

For full rich cheese flavor, there is no substitute for Italian-style grated Parmesan and Romano cheese.

Just how grated Parmesan-Romano can endow a simple dish with rich flavor is shown in a new recipe. The recipe, called "Green Rice," is for a casserole gay in color and rich in flavor and nutrition.

The casserole gets its color from chopped parsley and green peppers and its extra flavor and richness from milk, cheese and instant minced onion. It makes a delightful casserole which can be served with meat or with meatless meals.

1/2 cup packaged pre-cooked rice
1/2 cup water, 1 egg beaten, 1-3 cup salad oil, 1 cup homogenized milk, 1 to 2 envelopes (1-5 oz.) Instant Mince Onion OR 1/4 to 1/2 cup finely chopped fresh onion, 1/2 cup chopped parsley, 1/2 cup chopped green pepper, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 1/2 cups (2-3 oz. cans) Grated Parmesan and Romano Cheese, 1/2 cup buttered bread crumbs.

Cook rice according to directions on package. Lightly butter a 1-quart casserole. Combine the rice, egg, oil and milk together in a large mixing bowl.

Add onion, parsley, green pepper, salt and 1 cup of the cheese to the rice mixture. Pour into casserole. Mix remaining cheese with bread crumbs.

Sprinkle over top of casserole. Bake, uncovered, in a moderate oven (300 deg. F.) 35 to 40 minutes or until done. Makes 5 to 6 servings.

Upsidedown Blueberry Cakes

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Have you ever made a blueberry upsidedown cake? Once we tried this way of using the fresh cultivated berries, and found that the fruit with its cake topping turned out of the pan as well as the usual canned fruits used for this dessert, it became one of our annual summertime specialties.

This year, instead of making one big blueberry upsidedown cake, we prepared the dessert in cupcake form. These individual cakes are convenient because some of them may be eaten right away, others may be refrigerated and served a few days later. When we are able to save some of these cupcakes — not always possible — we always reheat them before serving.

When it comes to putting the fresh berries on family menus, we probably don't need to remind you that they are delicious on ready-to-eat crisp cereal. This way, our family likes to add brown instead of white sugar to the cereal and berries.

We also like to use the large cultivated berries in fruit cups and salads because in addition to adding their good flavor, they contribute a particularly handsome appearance. Sometimes we mix the berries with canned pineapple chunks and their syrup. Sometimes we use fresh pineapple rings (or the drained canned ones) and arrange them on salad greens with the blueberries; homemade mayonnaise or a sour cream dressing (real or ersatz) are delectable with this combination.

If your family dotes on pancakes, don't let the summer pass without adding some of the fresh blueberries to a batter. Serve these with crisp bacon or fried ham some Sunday morning when you have time to loll over brunch. Bluebottom Cupcakes spoons sugar, 1 cup sifted flour, 1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/4 cup shortening, 1/2 cup sugar, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1 egg, 1/4 cup milk.

1 1/2 cups blueberries, 6 table-

Wash and drain blueberries; mix with 6 tablespoons sugar; divide equally into 8 buttered 6-ounce custard cups. Sift flour, baking powder and salt together. Cream shortening, 1/2 cup sugar and vanilla; beat in egg thoroughly.

Stir in sifted dry ingredients alternately with milk; mix only until smooth. Spread batter over sugared blueberries. Bake in hot (400 degree) oven about 20 minutes or until cake tester inserted into center of cake comes out clean. Allow to stand on wire rack in cups until warm; turn out.

If any of the blueberries remain in bottom of cups, remove with spatula and spread over other berries. Serve at once. Delicious served with vanilla ice cream or whipped cream. Makes 8 servings.

Chowder Dinner Gains Praise for Hostess

Meatless day needn't be lonely ones, for a hearty chowder makes delicious company fare.

Your guests will be delighted with your big tureen of shrimp chowder — bubbling hot and deliciously aromatic. And because chowder is such a warm and friendly food, you'll create a happy dinnertime atmosphere.

Your chowder will look and taste as though you've spent many hours preparing it.

Serve your chowder buffet style, with slices of French bread, salad and your favorite dessert.

½ cups chopped onion, 1 tablespoon butter or margarine, 1 can (10½ ounces) condensed cream of celery soup, 1 can (10½ ounces) condensed clam chowder, 1½ soup cans water, 1 can (5 ounces) shrimp, drained, 1 tablespoon chopped parsley.

In saucepan, cook onion in butter until tender. Blend in remaining ingredients; simmer for about 5 minutes or until flavors are blended. Makes 6 servings.

Maine Has Fish & Potatoes

GAYNOR MADDOX

Long ago an Indian came to Lake Sebago, the second largest in Maine, had a glorious time for himself and then called the place Migis, meaning happy camping ground.

We understand why in Migis Lodge as we dined in a cool room on the wide lake dotted with tree-covered islands and boats headed inshore. Mr. and Mrs. Sherman K. Crockett, owners of the Lodge, told us the trout and landlocked salmon are unusually large.

Of course, there were clams and lobsters and old-fashioned apple dumplings served with warm spice sauce with adolop of whipped cream on top. Maine potatoes and Maine sardines turned up together in a hearty dish.

Scalloped Potatoes, Fisherman Style (Yield: 6 servings)

1 cup thinly sliced onions, 5 cups thinly sliced peeled potatoes, 2 cans Maine sardines, drained and broken, ¼ cup butter or margarine, 3 tablespoons flour, 1 teaspoon salt, pepper to taste, ¼ teaspoon dry mustard, 2 cups milk, 1 cup grated cheese, 1 can Maine sardines, drained and left whole.

In a heavy saucepan, bring 2 cups salted water to a rapid boil; add onions and potatoes and cover. Boil rapidly for about 5 minutes then drain. Break sardines into pieces.

Melt butter or margarine over low heat; stir in flour, seasonings and milk. Cook over low heat until thickened; add cheese; stir until cheese melts.

In a greased casserole, arrange about ¼ potatoes and onions in a layer; scatter generously with broken sardines. Spread with a part of the cheese sauce. Continue making layers in this way until casserole is filled, ending with a layer of sauce.

Top with whole sardines. Bake in a hot oven (400 deg. F.) for 40 minutes or until potatoes are tender and top begins to brown.

Elkton

A public card party will be sponsored by the Auxiliary Friday, Oct. 6 at 8 p.m. at Elkton School. Proceeds to be used for Boy Scout supplies. Lunch will be served.

The ladies will meet with Mrs. Tom Pike of the Churchill Rd. October 24th.

Beloit

C. H. McNatt, John Snyder and Robert Schreckengost are attending a scout training program at Poland. Schreckengost will be the new scout master for Boy Scout Troop 82, to replace Bruce Slagle.

Silver Needle Club met at the home of Mrs. Morris Hawkins with 9 members and one guest present. Lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Herman Gednetz. The next month's meeting will be held with Mrs. Al Murphy.

Mrs. Melvin Moulin attended a farewell dinner for Mrs. Frank Zamarelli given in Alliance by co-workers at Bonney Forge & Tool Works.

Mr. and Mrs. John Eckenroth visited Sgt. and Mrs. Charles Kille at Indiantown Gap, Pa. They also enjoyed a trip through Baltimore and Washington, D.C.

The Vercia Cox Circle met at the home of Mrs. Martha Lee.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Willard are the parents of a daughter born at Salem City Hospital.

Mrs. Helen Greenawalt is recovering from a heart attack at Youngstown South Side Hospital.

Mrs. Ralph Lockhart Jr. and son have been discharged from Alliance City Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Moore of Kokomo, Ind., were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Kirkham.

West Coast Shrimp

2 pounds jumbo shrimp (12 to 16 to a pound), ½ cup butter, 2 cloves garlic (crushed), Lemon Wedges.

Shell and devein raw shrimp. Melt butter with garlic; dip the shrimp in mixture. Skewer the shrimp and broil over charcoal just until opaque through—about 5 minutes, turning once. Serve at once.

Use any of the garlic butter left to pour over shrimp. Makes 6 servings.

Melon, Ham Salad

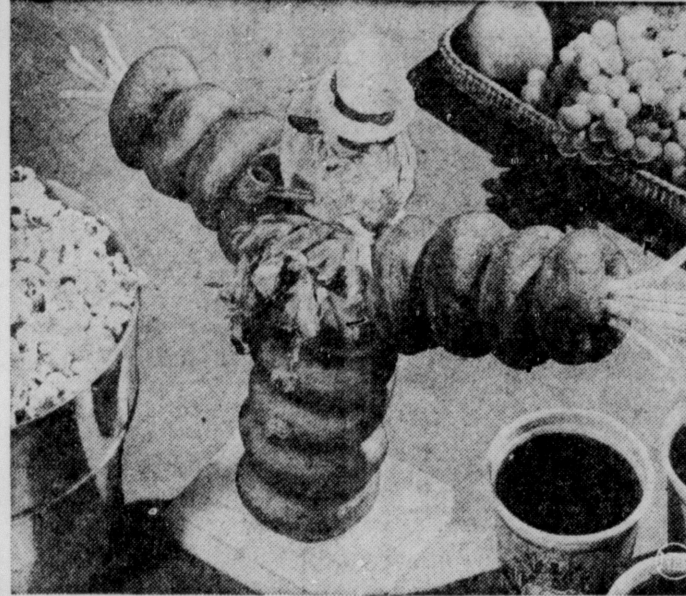

(Yield: 6 servings)

1 pound package cottage cheese, salad greens, any desired, 12 slices prosciutto, boiled ham or bologna, thinly sliced, 1 medium cantaloupe, peeled, ½ medium honeydew, peeled, fresh mint leaves or watercress, French dressing or mayonnaise.

Place cottage cheese in center of serving plate, on any salad green desired. Roll up prosciutto, boiled ham or bologna and sandwich between lengthwise slices cantaloupe and honeydew cut 1-inch thick.

The United States has more than 800 different kinds of trees.

Make Doughnut Scarecrow

Oscar, the giddy Halloween scarecrow, is the ideal guest when the goblins and black cats arrive. To make him, follow these instructions:

Materials to build scarecrow: One styrofoam block (4½ x 3 3/4 x 7½ inches), 1 styrofoam triangle (1¼ inches high with a 2¼ inch base, ¾ inches thick), 3 (8 inch) skewers, toothpicks.

Ingredients: Thirteen plain baker's doughnuts, 1 sugared doughnut, 2 red candied cherries, 1 (2½-inch) piece of carrot, 2 large marshmallows, 1 tablespoon of cornstarch, 1 black cone-shaped gumdrop, 3 red cone-shaped gumdrops, 3 whole cloves with long stems, 2 (2½ inch) pieces of celery, celery leaves.

Body: Cut block and triangle from styrofoam. Stand triangle upright on its 2¼-inch base. Insert skewer, vertically at top point of triangle; carefully push down through exact center. Slide triangle up to head of skewer. Thread five doughnuts on same skewer and stand it upright in the styrofoam block base.

Arms: Thread four doughnuts on each of other skewers. Insert one of the skewers into each side of styrofoam triangle at an angle to resemble arms.

Head: Cut a small slit in one edge of sugared doughnut; place vertically, over head of upright skewer to resemble scarecrow head. Cut small oval sections from cherries for eyes; fasten to sugared doughnut with short pieces of a toothpick. Shave about 12 very thin strips, about ½-inch wide, from length of carrot piece and lay over top of sugared doughnut for hair.

Trim: To make hat brim, roll a marshmallow in cornstarch and flatten with a rolling pin.

Stick a toothpick through center. Fasten other marshmallow to one toothpick end for crown of hat; stick opposite toothpick end into sugared doughnut. Fashion hat band from remaining pieces of cherry and place between brim and crown. Stick two toothpicks into the black gumdrop to make a pipe. Insert opposite ends of toothpicks into sugared doughnut at mouth area. For button. Slice the rounded top from each red gumdrop, through which push the stem of a whole clove.

Arrange buttons in a row down scarecrow front by punching the clove stems into doughnuts. To form hands, cut one end of celery pieces into narrow strips, leaving other ends whole. Gently push the solid end into hole of outside doughnut on each arm. Arrange celery leaves around styrofoam triangle, where sections join, to resemble whiskers. Yield: 14 servings.

The British North America Act is the name of the unwritten constitution of Canada.

Summer Salad Bowl

(Yield: 6 to 8 servings)

1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon of powdered mustard, ½ teaspoon ground black pepper, 3-4 teaspoon tarragon leaves, 2 teaspoons fresh lemon juice, 2 teaspoons cider vinegar, 1-3 cup salad oil, 1 small clove garlic, mashed, ½ medium head Boston lettuce, ½ medium head Romaine lettuce, ½ medium head endive, 1 small bunch watercress, 1 cup fresh onion rings.

Combine seasonings, lemon juice, vinegar, oil and garlic. Beat well with a rotary beater. Set aside to use later.

Wash salad greens, drain and dry well. Tear into bite-size pieces and place in a salad bowl along with onion rings. Toss well, being sure to coat greens with dressing.

World Series Opens Today With Yankees Solid Favorites

69,000 Fans To See First Game

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Menaced by threat of rain, the World Series is scheduled to start today with the power-packed New York Yankees reigning solid favorites over the Cincinnati Reds despite Yankee Mickey Mantle's doubtful status.

The Weather Bureau said a soaking rain which fell all Tuesday night tapered off by game time—at noon, EST—but there was a possibility the showers would continue until late in the day.

A postponement would push the opener back a day to Thursday.

Additional Sports On Page 18

and be a big help to Yankee Manager Ralph Houk, who then might be certain of the services of the ailing Mantle.

Yanks 12-5 Favorites
With, or without Mantle—recovering from surgery on an abscess on his right hip—the Yankees rule a 12-5 choice over the National League champion Reds, who have quiet confidence they can repeat the Pittsburgh Pirates' 1960 series upset of the favored Yankees in seven games.

If the weather is not too forbidding, a crowd of 69,000 will jam Yankee Stadium for the opener which will be telecast and broadcast nationally (NBC).

Ford vs O'Toole
The pitching opponents will be lefties—Yankee Whitey Ford, the majors' top winner with a 25-4 record, versus Cincinnati's Jim O'Toole, who won his last eight decisions for a 19-9 record.

The Reds have been in the big town two days, but most of the news has been about Roger (Blimmer) Maris, the lame Yankee and Casey Stengel ex-Yankee manager who now bosses the new New York Mets. The Gotham attitude is that the Reds are in on a pass.

That's the way Cincinnati Manager Fred Hutchinson and his collection of admitted "rejects" like it. The Reds opened the season as 60-1 National League pennant possibilities. They copied the flag by winning while everybody else wondered how they could do it—without a bangup catcher or the hallowed formula of strength through the middle, except Vada Pinson in center.

Scouting Reports Given
While Houk went to great lengths to inform sports writers how the Yankees scrutinized scouting reports on the Reds, Hutchinson simply said, "We went over the Yankee lineup. It was just a routine thing you do for a World Series—we know the job we have to do and we'll try to do it."

A great deal of confusion existed over the condition of Mantle, who said he felt improved but was uncertain he could play. N.Y. Has 2 Lineups

Houk listed two starting lineups—one with Mantle, who slammed 54 homers batting cleanup behind Maris, and the other without Mantle, installing catcher Elston Howard as cleanup man, shifting Maris from right to Mantle's center field spot and placing Hector Lopez in right.

Hutchinson said he would await game time to decide whether Darrell Johnson, who hurt his side in batting practice last Friday, would be his starting catcher. Johnson said he was ready to play. If he can't, Jerry Zimmerman will catch.

Cincinnati's hopes admittedly rest in Frank Robinson, a .323 hitter with 37 home runs, and the fleet Pinson, who has a .343 batting mark and was a key man in the Reds' late pennant drive.

Jim O'Toole Stingy With Gopher Ball

NEW YORK (AP)—Jim O'Toole, 24-year-old son of a Chicago policeman, had the most important assignment of his career today, and he admitted he had "butterflies."

Currently the hottest pitcher on either team, O'Toole was Manager Fred Hutchinson's choice as opening-day pitcher for the Cincinnati Reds against the New York Yankees.

"I'll feel the butterflies, all right," conceded O'Toole, a 190-pound, 6-footer. "But I always feel them in any game until I get a batter or two out. Then they go away."

O'Toole is the youngest of Hutchinson's big three, and the least experienced.

But he had a winning streak of eight games at the end of the season and did not allow a single home run in 101 innings of his last 16 games. That's what Hutchinson needs against the Yankee long-ball hitters.

"He was our best pitcher during the last three weeks of the season when we needed good pitching," said Hutchinson, "so he's the obvious choice. This way I plan on starting him three times."

O'Toole never has pitched in the Yankee Stadium before (like practically all the Reds he has no World Series experience) but he isn't overawed by it. In fact, around the league, they say he's the most confident youngster since Dizzy Dean.

"The only time I ever was in the stadium before," he laughed, "was three years ago when I saw the series as a spectator. But it always has struck me as a nice place to pitch in. It is sort of like Forbes Field in Pittsburgh."

"After I get rid of the butterflies, I think the pressure will be more on our hitters and fielders than on me. And speaking of pressure, don't think the Yankee hitters won't have plenty of it."

This is only O'Toole's third full season with the Reds and he finished with a 19-9 record, mainly on his end-of-the-line spurt. Last year, he finished with a 12-12 mark and in 1959 it was 5-8.

PROBABLE SERIES STARTERS—Jim O'Toole, left, and Whitey Ford, both left-handers, are expected to be starting pitchers when the 1961 World Series opens at New York's Yankee Stadium. Ford has a 25-4 won-lost record for the New York Yankees while O'Toole has an 18-9 record for the Cincinnati Redlegs.

Iowa Guard Is Lineman Of The Week

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer
Iowa, the nation's top-ranked team in The Associated Press college football poll, opened its season last Saturday with a 28-7 victory over California.

For his part in helping to beat the Bears, Sherwyn Thorson, Iowa guard, was named today as the lineman of the week by The Associated Press.

A 215-pound senior, Thorson played virtually the entire game and led the Hawkeyes' forward wall in holding Cal to a net 85 yards rushing.

"Thorson defended well and threw the key blocks in a couple of touchdowns runs by Wilburn Hollis," said Gus Schrader, sports editor of the Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Gazette.

Gary Collins, Maryland end, was high up in the line men voting by sports writers and broadcasters.

Collins caught four passes for 57 yards, punted four times for a 40.2 average and made numerous tackles as Maryland beat Clemson. He now holds the Maryland pass yardage record with 811 yards.

One of Babe Ruth's most brilliant achievements was gaining the highest B.A. in World Series history. In 1928, when the Yankees took the Cardinals in four straight, the Babe hit an astounding .625. He hammered out 10 hits which included three homers in a single game, three doubles and nine runs scored.

Yankee Veteran Holds Many Records

Yogi To Start In 12th World Series Today

By YOGI BERRA
Written For The Associated Press
NEW YORK (AP)—For the last few years fellas keep asking me what World Series record gives me the best thrill. I really couldn't answer that one. I get a thrill every time I put on a Yankee uniform.

I'm 37 now and I guess Lou Gehrig said it best when he said "I'm lucky to be a Yankee."

The World Series scheduled to start today against Cincinnati is my 12th. It used to be that I looked forward to the winner's share. But as you get older your sense of values change and you realize money isn't everything.

OSU Grid Coach Satisfied After Tuesday Practice

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Coach Woody Hayes ran his Ohio State Buckeyes through what he called one of the hardest Tuesday practice sessions he has ever put a team through Tuesday, but when it was all over Hayes seemed satisfied.

Emphasis during the grind was on offense. The Bucks got only one touchdown in their opening tie with Texas Christian.

Only offensive guard Rod Foster, suffering from a sore hip which he injured during last Saturday's game, was absent from the session. Halfback Bob Klein, however, is still somewhat hobbled by a sprained ankle which kept him out of the TCU game. Hayes hopes he will be ready for the UCLA contest here this week, but, if not, sophomore Matt Snell, who filled in for him last week, will be at the right half post.

TRY SALEM NEWS WANT ADS

I see where I've earned $71,841 extra for playing in 68 World Series games. You know, I never added it up.

To me it's more important to be playing. I have no idea what I'd like to do when I'm finished playing. I don't even think about that. And I have no plans about retiring. I just want to play from year to year.

This series means a lot to me because this will be the first time I've started in one as an outfielder. Oh, I played some outfield in last year and in 1947 when I was a rookie of 22 and the Dodgers ran wild on the bases in my first two series games as a catcher.

In the third game I pinch hit for Sherman Lollar and became the first player to hit a pinch home run in a World Series.

But I don't like to look back and maybe when I get older those dozen records I hold will mean much more. It's still nice to have fellas come up to you and remind you of them.

Roger Maris Won't Underrate Redlegs

NEW YORK (AP)—Roger Maris doesn't underrate the Cincinnati Reds.

The major league home run champ naturally favors his own New York Yankees to defeat the Reds in the World Series, but he doesn't believe it will be easy.

"I just can't understand why they are downgrading the Cincinnati club," Maris said. "They've got a good club. Heck, they must be a good team. They beat some clubs that were rated pretty high early in the season."

"The only ones who are downgrading the Reds are the teams which lost to them. It sounds like sour grapes to me."

Locals Have Outscored Opponents 72-27

Fullback Fred Kaiser Leads Quaker Gridders In Scoring

By CARL NADRASY
News Sports Editor

Pile-driving Salem High School fullback Fred Kaiser has moved into the scoring lead among the local gridgers as the season approaches the half-way mark.

Kaiser, who is following in the footsteps of Salem's continuous flow of outstanding fullbacks, has tallied four of the locals' 10 touchdowns for a 24-point total.

Close behind in the scoring race is Quaker quarterback Bill Beery, who, after putting on a one-man show in the Youngstown North game with three touch down spurts, has 18 points.

Rounding out the Salem scoring after four games are left halfback Dave Edling with one TD and six extra points for 12 markers; right halfback Jim Gibb and center George Johnson with a touchdown apiece, and halfback Dave Capel with six extra points.

Salem has rolled to an impressive scoring gap over its opponents. The Quakers have tallied 72 points to only 27 by its four opponents.

However, a look at the team's statistics shows a closer relationship between the past performance of the Quakers and their opponents.

Salem's opposition has rolled to a 49-42 edge in over-all first downs, mainly on a passing first down advantage of 7-1 over the locals.

A solid ground game has pulled Coach Blaine Morton's charges far out front in rushing statistics, with the home team rolling up 838 net yards overland to 660 by its opponents.

But with passing again causing the difference, Salem's four opponents have an over-all yardage-gained advantage of 867 to 844. This quick turnaround is due to the opposition's 207 yards through the air to only six for the locals.

Quarterback Bill Beery, although he holds a good four-for-ten completion record, has gone back to attempt more passes but has not been able to get the tosses off before hard-charging tacklers have broken up the plays.

Another interesting statistic, considering the overwhelming lead Salem has over its opposition in scoring, is the deficit the Quakers have in plays run from scrimmage. Opposition plays from scrimmage have clicked off 206 times, while the locals have managed 179 attempts.

Miss AMERICA BOWLS

4-Pickup

By SHARON KAY RITCHIE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Pickup is as important in bowling as it is in a car.

If you don't pick up the ball properly, you can throw yourself out of gear before you even get started.

When I began bowling, one of the first things Jan Harman, winner of the Queens' Tournament, pointed out was how to avoid injury and prevent arm strain in this necessary prelude to rolling the ball.

"There are very few ways you can hurt yourself bowling," Jan said, "but the most common injury—and certainly a painful one—is having a return ball ram into your hand while you are picking up your ball."

To avoid this, pick up the ball by placing the hands on the outside of it, away from the line of balls on the rack. Pick up the ball with both hands. Support its weight on the left hand (if you are right-handed). With the weight on the non-bowling hand, you keep the action arm from tiring.

Make sure the ball you pick up is your own. People can be very sensitive about others using their property.

When you pick up the ball, take time to get set properly and comfortably before rolling it, but don't hold up the game by deliberating too long before starting the approach.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By RUFUS LIDE

Be sure it's game before you aim. . . . Never point a gun at anything you do not want to kill. . . . Treat every gun as if it was loaded, etc. This is a few of the cardinal rules of hunter safety as being taught by the Salem Hunting Club. A new class is being formed on a first-come-first-serve basis.

You wouldn't want your youngster to get behind the wheel of an auto without some driving experience. Neither does the law allow it, so keep in mind both are lethal weapons that can kill when under control of an inexperienced person. Any person under 16 years of age is not allowed to hunt unless accompanied by an adult. Regardless of age, everyone must have a hunting license to hunt with the exception of the land owner, his children or the tenant of a farm and his children.

HUNTING SEASON for ducks begins at noon Eastern Standard Time until sunset. After opening day ducks may be taken from sunrise to sunset until Nov. 18, both dates inclusive. Open season for geese is the same as ducks, however geese may be taken until Dec. 18 inclusive. Shoot in g hours are the same as for ducks, however special regulations for both ducks and geese should be read.

All ducks taken alive, but crippled, must be killed immediately before being legal quarry. Only one wood duck at any time can be had in legal possession.

Suppose you crippled a wood duck and wanted to take it home and get a permit to keep it? As long as that wood duck is in your possession you would not be allowed to shoot another, and neither can you get a permit for a wild wood duck since they should not be taken alive.

REDHEAD and canvas back ducks cannot be taken this season because of their scarcity. It remains to be seen just how long it will be before these ducks will again be legal quarry. That's where State and Federal laws come in — to protect any migratory bird from becoming extinct like the passenger pigeons because adequate laws were not in effect.

It is up to the individual hunter to be able to identify ducks according to species just the same as it is to know a hen from a cock pheasant. Hunters have a responsibility the same as the enforcement officers to see that the rules and regulations are not violated. I have a few pamphlets on duck identification and the table of sunrise and sunset official for this area which I will pass along to persons requesting them from me personally, or I will put them in the mail providing you enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope. The supply is limited. My address: Box 202, Beloit, Ohio.

College Football Picks

By The Associated Press
By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—There will be a full schedule of college football games this weekend despite the World Series. If you get too excited about the baseball, don't worry. Here are your football winners!!

(Last week, 32 right, 15 wrong for 681. Season's average, 748)
Iowa over Southern California: This will occupy your TV screen after the Series game. Larry Ferguson, Hawkeye speedster, is injured but the Iowans still have too much for the once mighty Trojans.

Mississippi over Florida State: The Mississippians, like the river, just keep rolling along.
Georgia Tech over Louisiana State: a night contest. But the darkness won't hide Stan Gann's cleverness at quarterback for the Engineers.

Texas over Washington State: With ease.

Michigan State over Stanford: Stanford will furnish most of the excitement, but Michigan State provides the heavyweight tackles who will control the scoring.
Syracuse over Maryland: The Orangemen from New York could be in trouble if Ernie Davis hasn't completely recovered from his hurts.

Ohio State over UCLA: The Buckeyes' stingy defense will decide this struggle between the leaders of two powerful conferences.

Michigan over Army: The Cadets have given up their lonely old offense. They'll also give up the decision in this one.

Elsewhere:
Purdue over Notre Dame: Kansas over Colorado; Missouri over California; Texas Christian over Arkansas.

Kansas over Colorado, Northwestern over Illinois, Wisconsin over Indiana, Nebraska over Kansas State, Cincinnati over Xavier, Minnesota over Oregon, Oklahoma State over Tulsa, Oklahoma over Iowa State.

Tebbets, Paul Had Big Hand in Building Reds

By HAROLD HARRISON
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Birdie Tebbets was sitting on a stairway talking with Johnny Keane. About 10 yards away stood Gabe Paul chatting with friends.

It was the night before the scheduled start of the 1961 World Series between the Cincinnati Reds and the New York Yankees. They were on the outside, looking in. They were the forgotten men. Tebbets and Paul had a lot to do with putting together the Reds team that is heading into the World Series.

Tebbets, who quit as Reds' manager near the end of the 1958 season, now is manager at Milwaukee. Paul quit as general manager after the 1960 season to go to the new Houston club and then switched to Cleveland of the American League.

Trades engineered by new general manager, Bill DeWitt, which brought second baseman Don Blasingame and pitcher Joey Jay to the Reds, had a lot to do with Cincinnati success this year. But it was a cinch Paul and Tebbets also were thinking about O'Toole, Hook, Maloney, Bell, Post, Purkey, Pinson, Robinson, Brosnan and Henry—players either traded for or signed during their regimes.

"It's good to be here," said Paul.

Tebbets, a one-time major league catcher, was questioned particularly about the Reds' catching.

All season the experts have been saying no team could win a pennant with only rookie catchers. After Ed Bailey was traded away to San Francisco in the deal which plugged a second base hole with Blasingame, the Reds were left with only rookies Jerry Zimmerman and Johnny Edwards. That existed until Darrell Johnson, a Yankee castoff who had been a coach with the St. Louis Cardinals, was signed.

It still left the Reds with what most baseball people insist is a definite weakness.

That drew a dissent from Tebbets.

"A weakness will not show up in a single series," he said. Asked about his impressions of Edwards and Zimmerman, Tebbets said:

"They called the pitches and they called them into the World Series." It seemed as simple as that.

10,000 Expected at Kent Saturday for Miami Game

Head Kent State University grid coach Trev Rees expects two changes in the line-up when Miami invades Kent's Memorial Stadium Saturday. Jerry Bals, 240 lb. sophomore tackle, from Cleveland Collinwood, will take over the left tackle spot from Versailles sophomore Jim Phelan. Dick Merschman, 197 lb. junior fullback from Delphos, will start at fullback after his fine play in Athens.

Halfback Bruce Culpepper, who returned a third quarter punt 56 yards to set up co-captain Bob Alford's final quarter field goal, was injured for the second time in as many games and is listed as a doubtful starter. The 165 lb. halfback from Piqua is on the injured list with Greg Keener, a 205 lb. Swanton halfback. Both are sophomores.

Another possible change would find Poland junior Dick Wolf at left end in place of Tom Kilker, a 219 lb. junior from Ashtabula. A crowd of 10,000 is expected to watch the Miami Redskins and the Kent Golden Flashes do battle in the 1961 version of the Kent Dad's Day. Fathers of the players will be seated at the sidelines during the game and will wear a number of their son on their back.

The collegians, who began to put the toe back in the game when the goalposts were widened by almost 5 feet in 1959, have kicked 52 three-pointers in 123 games among major colleges so far this year. If the rate is maintained it will easily surpass last season's alltime high of 224.

Meanwhile, Northwestern has taken the initial lead in total offense with 488 yards gained in its first game while Dartmouth is the over-all defense leader with only 58 yards permitted, according to NCAA Service Bureau statistics released today.

Northwestern also is No. 1 in rushing offense with 478 yards and Dartmouth tops in rushing defense with only six yards given up. West Texas State, with 111 points in two games, and Colgate, with 50 in its opener, are running 1-2 in team scoring.

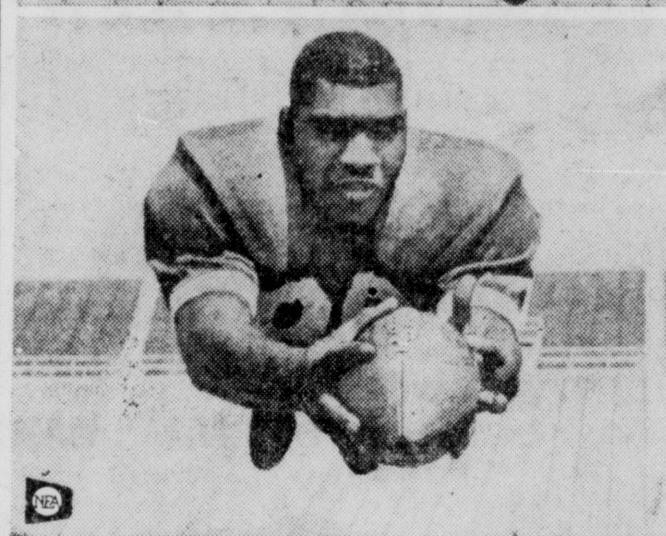

Queen City Fans Stage Pep Rally For Redleg Heroes

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Queen City held a pep rally Tuesday night as a final World Series send-off for its National League champion Reds, but it was not much like the wild celebration Cincinnatians put on when the team clinched the pennant last week.

The "Reds Si, Yankees No" signs were in evidence, and there was drinking in the streets. There was milling around and shoving, and climbing of lamp posts and one fan put detergent in the Tyler-Davidson Fountain to make the suds flow.

But the crowd was not quite enough to make shoving necessary. And, while the pennant night crowd had been of all ages, teenagers and college students predominated at the rally wishing the Reds off to a good start in the World Series starting today in New York.

Roberts, Hodges On List For New Teams

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Mets and Houston Colts, the two new National League baseball clubs, will be able to form their teams from a list that includes former league stars Robin Roberts, Gil Hodges, Red Schoendienst, Sam Jones, Richie Ashburn and Johnny Antonelli. The Associated Press has learned.

The selections from the lists of 15 players made available by each of the eight established clubs will be made by Houston and New York the day after the World Series ends.

Although the lists are in the hands of officials of the Mets and Colts, they will not be officially disclosed by the league.

The AP has learned, however, that Roberts, Hodges, Schoendienst, Jones, Ashburn and Antonelli are on the lists together with such other name players as Clem Labine, Johnny Logan, Vinegar Bend Mizell, and Bobby Shantz of the Pittsburgh Pirates, Billy Loes and Eddie Bressoud of the San Francisco Giants; Norm Larker and Roger Craig of the Los Angeles Dodgers; and Pancho Herrera of the Philadelphia Phillies.

Cincinnati's current list, the AP learned, contains only the names of those not eligible for the World Series. It is reported that Gus Bell, Dick Gernert and Jay Hook may be among those made available once the series ends.

INDIANS CHIEF — Mel McGaha has been signed to a one-year contract to manage the Cleveland Indians. McGaha, 35, first base coach during the past season, replaced Jimmie Dykes.

Game To Be Played At Reilly Stadium West Branch Will Battle Massillon Reserves Saturday

The West Branch varsity grid squad of Coach Ralph Zurbrugg will battle the Massillon Tiger reserves Saturday at Salem's Reilly Stadium. Kickoff time will be 8 p.m.

Neither team had scheduled games for that date but final arrangements were not completed until yesterday.

The visitors' "big brothers" currently reign as the top high school football power in the state.

Massillon will bring a 5-1 record to Salem to pit against the Warriors 3-1 mark. Zurbrugg explained that the Tigers have played other small high schools as well as reserve squads from schools of their relative size. The Warriors dropped their opening game to a powerful North Canton team but bounced back to win their last three consecutive games.

Heavyweight Title Fight Moved To Boston Dec. 5

TORONTO (AP)—Floyd Patterson will defend his world heavyweight championship against Tom McNeely here on Dec. 4 — all because they couldn't agree on a referee in Boston.

Originally, the bout was set for Boston on Nov. 13, but was called off because the Massachusetts Boxing Commission refused to go along with Patterson's request for an out-of-state referee.

Patterson apparently felt that McNeely, who comes from Boston, might have an advantage with a local referee.

Promoter Tom Bolan made the announcement Tuesday that the Patterson-McNeely bout would be held here in the 15,000-seat Maple Leaf Gardens. The bout will be televised in Canada and the United States, but an area within about 100 miles of here will be blacked out.

A Word From . . .

THERON'S

OLD COUNTRY STORE

Columbiana-Lisbon Road

We are promoting friendliness and unselfishness down here at the Old Country Store. Someone said if you are nice to people they will spend more money. We thought we would try it, and it seems to be working real well.

Questions—Answers

Q—What 16th century English monarch was known as "Bloody Mary"?
A—Queen Mary the First.

Q—What nation came into being May 14, 1948?
A—Israel.

Q—Traditionally, the French have been ruled over by three races of royal lines, what are they?
A—The Carolingian, Merovingian and Capetian.
